

London, Jan. 11.—The London afternoon papers, commenting on the reply of Foreign Secretary Grey to the American note concerning unwarranted interference with American shipping are unanimous in calling attention to Great Britain of her debt of gratitude to the United States and her desire to repay it by interfering with American trade as little as is necessary to secure the safety of this country and her allies. The papers take the ground that the foreign secretary's facts and figures, unless they can be explained or rebutted, prove that enormous supplies necessary to the provision of war have reached the enemy under cover of neutral trade. The Westminster Gazette says:

"A belligerent is guarding his own interests. No obligation rests upon a neutral to help a belligerent or to prevent the embarkation of contraband. We do not wish to blame the slightest responsibility on the United States, but in the dealing with a friendly neutral we can in a variety of ways consult his convenience, and the people of the United States may be assured that we will do whatever possible to mitigate the state of war to them."

The Globe expresses the opinion that Edward Grey's frank and friendly reply goes in some directions even further toward meeting the wishes of the United States than some of us think prudent.

The Globe suggests that the principal trouble over the question of contraband has arisen through the change in the American practice and the present prohibition of the publication of ships manifest until 30 days after the vessels left American ports. In this connection, the paper says: "If the consequent detention is inconvenient and injurious to American trade, the American government has the remedy in its own hands."

GOV. WILLIS EXPRESSES U. S. IS NOT SATISFIED HOPE FOR CO-OPERATION WITH ENGLAND'S REPLY

TAKES OATH IN REGULAR BUSINESS CLOTHES

Columbus, Jan. 11.—Accompanied by salutes of cheers from thousands of admiring citizens, while cannon boomed out the governor's salute, Frank Bartlett Willis became governor of Ohio today at high noon and the administration of Governor James M. Cox passed into history.

Shortly after the oath of office had been administered the inaugural parade took place. Lowering clouds and a miniature snow storm which had threatened to mar the inaugural festivities gave way to slightly clearing atmosphere as the day wore on.

Preceded by the imposing military band the line of march was taken up by the great procession of political chiefs, civic, commercial and financial bodies through lines of cheering humanity that lined the streets and sidewalks.

Governor Willis wore his ordinary business suit, and a soft smile pulled well down over his eyes, as he walked arm in arm with Governor Cox from the executive office to the platform on the (Continued On Page Two)

COX GIVES PLEDGE AS PRIVATE CITIZEN TO STAND BY WILLIS

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—In presenting to Governor Willis his commission of office, the retiring governor, James M. Cox, spoke as follows: "This beautiful ceremonial is the fifty-sixth inauguration of the fiftieth governor of the commonwealth. In all the mutations of time, political changes and social evolutions, there has not been a single instance in the history of Ohio when the people without regard to party, have not yielded to the expressed will of the electorate. Only once has the issue been legally contested, and the point in dispute then was not the result but the eligibility of the candidate receiving the highest vote. "In reflecting upon the significance of this it is important to note that in one of the greatest political battles of the century, the plurality was less than nine hundred. It demonstrates that the success of the Anglo-Saxon in government springs not only from his constructive genius, but his disposition to bow in acquiescence to the wish of the majority. In this presence at the shrine dedicated by our fathers to free government, we gather without regard to political classification, every citizen standing loyally behind the officer into whose hands passes the office holder of the state for maintenance of the dignity of the law. It becomes my duty now to present to the new governor his credentials, a commission which speaks the verdict of the state. In yielding to you, sir, the position of chief executive, there goes my pledge as a private citizen to stand behind you with our citizenship, with all the support which this love of our institutions, inspires, if times of stress arise during your administration, may the God of all nations quicken your impulse to preserve this government in such form as will continue to hold the confidence and the love of our people."

BIG DROP IN WHEAT

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Wheat came down today with a crash. Prices broke 5 1/2 cents on general selling rumors that one of the forces guarding the Dardanelles had been demolished by war ships of the allies. Speculators drew the inference that the way would be speedily opened for Russian wheat that has been piled up in immense quantities because of the Turks having enforced a stoppage of the natural outlet through the Dardanelles. May wheat here sold as low as $1.33 1/2 after having been up to $1.30 1/2 earlier in the day. Some sales of May at the extreme point of the collapse were recorded at $1.33 1/2. There was a subsequent rebound, however, and the market wound up much flurried at 3 to 3 1/2 cents under Saturday night's level with May at $1.34 1/2.

VILLA TROOPS START ATTACK ON MONTEREY

Laredo, Texas, Jan. 11.—An attack by Villa troops upon Monterey is believed to have begun about noon today. At 11 o'clock the operators at Monterey deserted the telegraph office there. Since the defeat of the constitutionalists numbering 15,000 under General Villa near Saltillo yesterday, Villa troops have been reported to be making a rapid advance toward Monterey.

ANOTHER FIRE ON N. Y. SUBWAY LINE

New York, Jan. 11.—The Lenox avenue line of the subway was out of commission for an hour and forty minutes early today because of another fire due, it is believed, to defective insulation, the cause of the fire and panic in the tube last Wednesday when one person met death and more than 200 were injured. Today's blaze was at One Hundred and Sixty-Third street, where the tracks, no longer in a tube, are high above the street. A car standing dead on the third track of the trestle was burned. It was a wooden car, similar to about 500 others that the public

PROMISES TO CUT EXPENSE AND ASSIST BUSINESS

Columbus, Jan. 11.—Frank B. Willis, Ohio's new governor, told the throng of citizens, law-makers and officials who gathered in the state house yard today to hear his inaugural address, that the executive branch of the state government will co-operate with, but not dominate the legislature during his administration. He expressed the hope that the government during the next two years will effect "retrenchment in public expenses," that the assembly will produce "as small a volume of legislation as is consistent with the public interests" and that party lines will not be drawn in the legislature.

Decentralization and return to more democratic forms of government without sacrifice of efficiency was the key note of his address which contained about 3,000 words and required less than 15 minutes to deliver. He repeatedly urged that citizens take keen interest in governmental affairs and (Continued on Page 2.)

CARDINAL IS REPRIMANDED

Amsterdam, (via London) Jan. 11.—The Telegraph says it learns that the Papal Nuncio to Belgium has written to Cardinal Mercier, whose recent pastoral letter to Belgian Catholics created much discussion and led to reports that the Cardinal had been detained by the Germans, suggesting that hereafter he write nothing which might offend the Germans.

BRING DOWN GERMAN FLYER

Paris, Jan. 11.—A German aeroplane flying over Amiens has been brought to the ground by a French machine. The French airman went aloft the moment the German was seen approaching. He opened fire on his antagonist with the result that the German machine fell within the French lines. One of the German pilots was killed.

Aged Banker Defends Heiress In Will Fight

Mrs. Lois A. Campbell Burkham

New York, Jan. 11.—Emerson McMillin, multi-millionaire banker, proved a remarkably effective witness for the defense in the suit to break the will of James Campbell, of St. Louis, who left $17,000,000 to a widow, a daughter and St. Louis university. Mr. McMillin vigorously opposed the institution of counsel for plaintiffs that Mrs. Lois Ann Campbell Burkham was not the child of Mrs. Campbell, but of another woman. The birth took place at the Grand Union hotel in this city on March 17, 1893. Mr. McMillin told of celebrating the advent of the little Campbell heiress the day after her birth with Mr. Campbell. He described the latter as an affectionate father and said that he had no reason to doubt the legitimacy of the child, who is now the wife of Elzey G. Burkham of St. Louis.

War News Concealed Under Letter Stamp

Wilming, Del., Jan. 11.—Howard L. Pyle has received a letter from his brother, George O. Pyle, now in England, in which the latter tells how an English friend secures information from a friend in Berlin. The Berlin man writes a message on the envelope of his letter and then pastes a stamp over it. When the stamp is stamped the message can be read.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN ARE BURNED TO DEATH

Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 11.—er he awoke to find the house in flames. He himself was badly burned in escaping and in endeavoring to rescue other members of the family, but was unable to save any of them. The victims are colored, being residents of the colored settlement of Macedonia, famous as an "underground railway" station during the days of slavery in the South.

PRINCIPLES ARE CONCEDED BUT NOT CARRIED OUT

Washington, Jan. 11.—The United States government, it became known today, is not altogether satisfied with the note of Sir Edward Grey giving Great Britain's preliminary reply to President Wilson's protest concerning the treatment of American commerce by the British fleet.

While gratified that Great Britain admits the just proof of her principles of international law cited in the American note, officials reiterated today that the chief difficulty had been England's neglect to make her actual practice square with the previously accepted rules of international law.

It is realized by officials here that a long diplomatic correspondence conceding the principles of the American case but not actually carrying them into practice will not meet the complaints of American exporters and shippers and although England's supplementary answer is expected to give a more detailed statement of her position, officials plan to take up vigorously all individual cases which may meanwhile arise.

RUMANIA READY TO JOIN WITH ALLIES

London, Jan. 11.—There are increasing indications of the early participation of Rumania in the war, thus bringing into play another party to the combination against the Teutonic powers. Difficulties confronted the allies in the earlier stages of the war in furnishing munitions, equipment and other necessities of war beyond those required for their own immediate needs. These difficulties now have been surmounted and the obstacle which hitherto has blocked full Rumanian mobilization has been removed with the arrival in that country of the requisite supplies for the equipment and provisioning of the 600,000 men which she is able to put into the field. Arrangements have been completed also for the financing of these operations.

PREPARE FOR BATTLE ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Washington, Jan. 11.—Supporters of woman's suffrage and opponents alike were arriving here today from throughout the country in readiness for the battle which has been staged for the House tomorrow when a vote will be taken on the resolution for a constitutional amendment making woman suffrage nation-wide. They will occupy seats in the visitors' gallery during the debate on the resolution.

Scenes of animation rivaling those during the debate and vote on the prohibition constitutional amendment recently are expected to be witnessed during the contest over the suffrage amendment. House leaders are planning for a flood of oratory. The House will meet an hour earlier than usual with the intention of voting before adjournment.

PROFESSOR DIES

Wellesley, Mass., Jan. 11.—Katharine Conant, 58, professor emerita of economics and sociology at Wellesley college died today. She was a native of Ohio. She had been a member of the Wellesley faculty since 1883.

MOST BEAUTIFUL PRINCESS TO WED

Sofia, Jan. 11.—The betrothal of Princess Elizabeth Rumania to Crown Prince Boris of Bulgaria will be announced next week. She has been called the most beautiful princess in Europe, and is as popular as she is attractive. At various times she has been reported engaged to Crown Prince George of Greece and the Prince of Wales.

The lack of stirring battles at the present stage is attributed by British experts largely to the determination of the allied commanders to content themselves with holding their present position until the projected ring of armies is considered sufficiently (Continued On Page Two) advise frequently with their legislators, on whom he placed all responsibility of solving problems of making laws.

Governor Willis explained that general recommendations for legislation to carry out platform pledges will be made to the legislature in his message tomorrow. He added: "It is hoped that when these reforms are accomplished the general assembly will not manifest any excessive zeal for law making."

He made no open reference to Governor Cox's administration, but after commenting on the dangers of centralized government repeatedly, he said:

Will Not Be Drawn

"The outcome of the recent election was not merely a partisan victory—it was the people's emancipation." The governor added, referring to the legislature: "It is hoped that party lines will not be drawn, as they certainly were not in the election just passed."

He thanked the people for the honor of election and asked their continued support.

He promised that the governor's department would not attempt to dominate even other administrative branches, whose heads were elected by the people. He said:

"The elected heads of the executive departments are anxious that the mandates of the people as expressed at the recent election shall be crystallized into legislation and realized in administration to the end that there may be ever, that the note in its citation of statistics has not taken up one of the chief points of the American argument. The British statistics were brought forward to argue that American commerce with neutral countries had not suffered as seriously as had been represented, but administration officials here contend that one of the chief purposes of the American protest was to prevent depletion of American commerce by continuation of British objection.

The American note, they said, was framed with the very idea of forestalling destruction of American trade.

Figures cited in the British note, in the view of officials here, are misleading because of much of the non-contraband goods which ordinarily go to Germany and Austria has really been shipped to neutral countries because of the scarcity of ships that would dare risk passage through mine fields to German ports.

Similarly, the desire of Germany and Austria to use all surplus production had caused countries to be denied of many raw materials which they now are compelled to import from the United States.

Such increases in total exports from the United States, officials here say, would conceal the real injury to some American industries because of their apparent growth in trade with individual countries.

Rejoinder Will Point Out Facts Overlooked

England's statement that out of 7733 ships which proceeded from the United States to neutral countries in Europe since the outbreak of the war only forty-five had cargoes placed in the prize courts while only eight of the ships themselves had gotten into the courts, was regarded by officials and diplomats here as proving that the bulk of American commerce was of legitimate character and had yielded only 45 doubtful cases. There is no mention made in the British note, on the other hand, of the large number of American ships which were detained, some of them for two weeks, for extended examination.

In the next communication which the United States will send to England is a rejoinder to the British view that ships must be taken into ports for examination instead of being searched on the high seas, that is expected to be vigorously disputed. There is some doubt not infrequently expressed here among officials, of whether the practice of the British fleet practically blockading the high seas instead of German ports themselves is not contrary to the fundamental principles of a blockade.

It is not unlikely that before the American reply is finally sent the state department will give out statistics showing when and where American ships have been detained.

Action of Exporters Has Given England A Point

It is admitted at the state department that the action of some American exporters and ship masters has placed the British in possession of a strong argument in favor of its present position. But with the recent arrangements for having outgoing cargoes loaded under the inspection of treasury officials and with the system of licenses which the British note states has been arranged to insure rubber and perhaps wool exported from America from reaching Germany and Austria, officials are inclined to believe that the way soon will be open for a completely satisfactory understanding between the two governments in regard to the treatment of neutral shipping, and they are encouraged in that belief by the frank and responsive tones of the British note.

GOVERNOR TAKES OATH

next steps of the capital, where the inaugural ceremonies took place. Governor Cox and most of the other officials were attired in formal anti-away coats and silk hats.

Parents and Family Have Prominent Place

In one of the front corners of the inaugural stand sat Governor Willis' aged father, Jay Willis, of Delaware, and by his side, was his mother, Mrs. Willis, the new governor's wife and his daughter, Miss Helen, also sat in the front of the stand.

The throng of men, women and children who filled the state house grounds cheered as the governors stood side by side at the edge of the platform. A man climbed from the common level of heads in the crowd to the top of an old cannon and waved his hat, calling, "Hello, Governor Frank!"

The new governor waved his hand at the man on the cannon. It was an old schoolmate.

Then Gov. Willis took his mother by the hand and led her to the front. She looked up to him and towered above her more than a foot and appeared proud of her governor-son but timid of the eyes of such a great crowd.

Mr. Willis then clasped his father by the hand. The aged man stood up and took off his hat. He seemed nervous too.

Governor Willis introduced to Gov. Cox his father, mother, wife and daughter. The crowd cheered louder. In the stand behind the new governor's immediate family sat his relatives from over the state. On either side and behind the new governor stood detectives of the Columbus police force. Judges of the supreme court, in-coming and out-going also sat in the inaugural stand.

The crowd stood bare headed in the snow while Dr. Smith petitioned divine guidance for the new chief executive, Mr. Seymour then presented Gov. Cox. A cheer broke from the crowd when he stepped forward and after a brief address presented to Gov. Willis his commission as governor. The commission was rolled and tied with a gold ribbon.

Chief Justice Nichols administered the oath of office to the new governor, using an aged bible which has played the same part in many past inaugurations.

Only Few Hundred Witness Ceremonies

The actual swearing of the new governor took place in the open air at the west entrance of the state capital building and was witnessed by only a few hundred of the visitors, the other thousands being crowded out for the lack of space in the building.

Practically all of those in attendance upon the inaugural festivities had an opportunity of seeing the new governor and many of them had the opportunity of shaking hands with him during the public reception which will have occupied the greater part of the afternoon and early evening. At the request of Gov. Willis and his family the inaugural ball, the biggest social event of the capital upon the occasion of the most inaugurations heretofore, was dispensed with to the great disappointment of society people in Columbus and other cities of the state. Governor Willis vetoed the inaugural ball principally because of the expense involved. In dismissing the subject he had told the committee in charge that he regarded the inaugural ball as a useless fixture as well as an expensive one and that the present was as good as anytime to make a precedent by eliminating this function.

Other elected state officials who entered office with Governor Willis are: Lieutenant Governor John H. Arnold, of Columbus; Secretary of State Charles Q. Hildebrandt, of Wilmington; State Treasurer Rudolph W. Archer, of Bellair, and Attorney General Edward C. Turner of Columbus. All are republicans.

Members of the general assembly, which convened last Monday and after two days' routine work adjourned to meet for an hour's session this morning, were given special places in the reviewing stand today. Many were accompanied by their wives and members of their families or by constituents.

The assembly expects to hear Governor Willis' message tomorrow and after that will start actively law making work of the session.

Miss Pearl Catherine Fultz, of 1234 Third street, who has been suffering from a severe cold and neuralgia, is able to be out again.

N. & W. Conductor Was Badly Injured

N. & W. Freight Conductor A. D. Moore was seriously injured and had a close call from death Sunday evening while putting a draw bar in a car at Borderland, W. Va. While adjusting the draw bar the engines 1044-1086 which were pulling the train backed up to a cut of cars and caught Moore between two cars. His collar bone was broken and his left side was badly bruised. He sustained other minor bruises. Moore was moved to a hospital in Williamsport where the company physician Dr. Tunis Nunnemaker dressed his injuries. It was reported here shortly after the accident occurred that he had been killed as he was unconscious for several hours. He soon rallied and was able to be brought home on No. 15 Monday afternoon. An ambulance moved him from the train side to his home at 1419 McConnell avenue.

OVERDOSE ALMOST FATAL

After bravely fighting the throes of death for five hours little Roland Jenkins, 26 months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Jenkins of Sciotoville rallied Saturday evening and Sunday was pronounced out of danger. Baby Jenkins had been suffering with a severe cold for several days and at one o'clock Saturday afternoon the parents administered an overdose of cough medicine to the sick child. The family physician was hurriedly summoned and at 6 o'clock the little tot who came near dying showed signs of recovering. According to Mr. Jenkins he followed the directions on the bottle. Mr. Jenkins is a traveling salesman for the Joseph G. Reed company.

ALL RAIL SERVICE TO CUBA

George W. Frank, a representative of the Queen and Crescent route, was in the city today, and gave out the information that the "all rail" service between this country and Havana, Cuba, was inaugurated last night. The car ferry Henry M. Flagler made the initial trip from Key West to Havana, a distance of 105 miles. The ferry is equipped to run regardless of weather conditions, and has a capacity of 30 standard cars.

May Build Hotel

Landlord A. S. Turner of the Harris House announced Monday morning that he is negotiating for the purchase of a lot in the north end, upon which he will erect an up-to-date brick hotel building if the deal goes through. He says that it will be thoroughly modern, contain about forty rooms, with a la carte dining room service, running hot and cold water in every room, and every other convenience that goes to make up a first class hotel.

MANY AT "HOME COMING"

The Home Coming held Sunday by John E. Williams' Bible class of the Second Presbyterian church was a great success as it resulted in the largest attendance of the year, 68 being recorded. Mr. Williams instilled an old time spirit into the members and an increased attendance throughout the year is looked for.

WANTS SON KEPT AWAY

James Kelly, an N. & W. terminal employee and wife, called at police headquarters Monday and asked that the latter's son by a former marriage, Will Price, aged 20 years, be kept away from their home at Oakland avenue and Kinney Lane. The young man has been in the habit of abusing his mother and the other day Kelly struck him with a cuspidor injuring him to such an extent that a doctor had to be called to sew up his wound. Chief McCarty agreed to see young Price and order him to stay away from them in the future.

Married By Squire

Squire Byron officiated at the marriage Monday morning of Sanford Ewing, 21, a laborer of Otway, and Pearl Yonker, 18, of this city.

William R. Evans, 25, a local steel worker, and Della Mae Merston, 17, of Carey's Run, were married late Saturday afternoon by Squire Byron.

Glenn Rardin Buys Farm

Through a deal closed Monday Glenn Rardin came into possession of Joe Augustin's 48 acre farm within three quarters of a mile of West Union. There is a four room cottage and fine barn on the farm, which Mr. Rardin purchased as an investment.

Uncle Is Sick

Police Clerk Dennis Carrell spent Sunday visiting his uncle, W. Yuley, aged 72 years, who was stricken with paralysis at his home in Wail's Station, a few days ago. He found him slightly improved. Dennis' mother, Mrs.

OWLS TO INSTALL

Installation of the officers for the coming year will be the principal business at the regular weekly meeting of the Order of Owls Monday evening. It will be followed by a social session, which, it is expected, will be participated in by a large number of the members. George Burr is the new president of the order.

Tickets are selling fast for the Owls' Fastnacht dance, which will be held on the evening of February 16th.

LIKES HOSPITAL LIFE

George Holmes, a Front street young man, was denied admittance to Hempstead hospital Monday. He had just been discharged a few days ago and wanted to return there, claiming he had a touch of pneumonia. Safety Director Lake felt he was merely seeking to return there to get free board and because he liked the accommodations.

Special Sermons

On next Sunday evening Rev. J. W. Dunning, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will begin a series of sermons on "Present Day Problems." The subjects are as follows: January 17th, "The Secrets of Today's Unrest"; January 24th, "The Social Ideal of Jesus"; January 31st, "Privilege, Power, Plenty, Poverty"; February 7, "The Church and the World's Future."

MORTAR GUN EXPLODES AT COLUMBUS

BULLETIN

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 11.—Colonel George P. Zewer, superintendent of the state arsenal, was probably fatally injured here this afternoon by an explosion of a mortar.

He was taken to a hospital where his condition was pronounced critical.

The accident occurred when a squad of militiamen attempted to fire what is known as a "balloon bomb" and it exploded prematurely.

Mrs. James S. Beckett is seriously ill at her home, 217 Washington street. Relatives have been called to her bedside.

FINE TEAM OF HORSES DROWNED IN THE OHIO

A fine big black team of horses, belonging to the Interstate Transfer company were drowned in the Ohio river, directly north of the C. & O. depot, Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The team, which was hitched to a big consignment of beans, was driven by Charles Whaley. Coming down the steep grade, the horses became frightened and started at a brisk trot. Driver Whaley did all within his power to check the horses, but pushed by the heavily loaded wagon, the whole outfit gained additional momentum. Seeing that it would be impossible to stop the team, Driver Whaley jumped and the horses, wagon, beans and all plunged into the river. The outfit was going with such speed that the horses were carried underneath the float. They reappeared on the other side and were then carried under the ferry float, where the animals were drowned. Had Mr. Whaley stuck to the wagon it is quite likely he would have met a similar fate.

The entire cargo of beans, valued at about $500.00, was lost. The beans were consigned to the Gilbert Grocery company.

The bodies of the horses were recovered about 12 o'clock Monday just a short distance from where they went down. The animals had evidently torn loose from the wagon in their struggles to save themselves, for their bodies were floating on top of the water when they were discovered. They were removed to the plant of the Portsmouth Chemical com-

IF BILIOUS, SICK OR CONSTIPATED TAKE CASCARETS

Get a 10-cent box now. You're bilious! You have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels are cured by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean, stomach sweet, and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good and never grip or sicken.

Many In Need

James Curre, aged 55 years, of No. 344 Mill street, who is sick and destitute and unable to support his wife and three children, was warranted over to the county authorities for relief Monday. The family came here about three weeks ago from Greenup county, Ky.

Theo. O. Wagner, aged 35 years, of Clearfield, Pa., who is in the last stages of consumption and enroute to his former home in Gallipolis, was given a charity pass to Huntington.

Vina Smith, of 25 Union street, and John Polly, of 1808 Findlay street, were given relief. Ora Shannon, of Twelfth street, who is destitute, applied for transportation to Columbus.

Injuries Fatal

E. E. Kuppin, 22, young ball-player who tried out for a position as pitcher for the Portsmouth team of the O. S. L., two seasons ago, died at the Jewish hospital in Cincinnati, Sunday, as the result of injuries he sustained several days ago by being run down by an automobile. The unfortunate young man was a brother to Louis Kuppin, a former rabbi of this city.

A BIG REVIVAL AT WILLIAMSON

Mr. M. H. F. Kinsey received from a friend today of a revival that is sweeping Williamson, W. Va. In the past few days six hundred conversions have been reported, and the little city is stirred from center to circumference.

Mr. Kinsey's friend wrote that the banks and other places of business are being closed so that revivalists may attend the meetings, which are being held in the court house, and that the conversions include some of the most prominent, as well as some of the most notorious people in the place.

The services are in charge of Evangelist Carter, of Louisville, Ky. Among his converts are a bank cashier, a leading physician, an ex-convict, the head of a big wholesale firm, and many other prominent people.

WHAT WILL RELIEVE STOMACH TROUBLE

A Hard Question—But This Retired Ohio Farmer Answers It—Mr. Matteson's Statements Are Reliable.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio.—"I suffered from nervous dyspepsia and stomach trouble so that large lumps would seem to come up in my throat, and would get red and inflamed and stand up or even bleed. I tried different remedies but nothing seemed to help me until one day my druggist told me about Vinol. I tried it and soon noticed an improvement and now I am well."—H. T. MATTESON, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

Vinol seldom fails to strengthen and tone up the tired, overtaxed and weakened nerves of the digestive organs and remove the cause of indigestion and so enable the sufferer to digest with ease the foods that once caused distress. Vinol also creates a healthy appetite and builds up the weakened run-down system.

We have such faith in Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, that we ask every person in this vicinity suffering from nervous dyspepsia or stomach trouble to try Vinol on our offer to return their purchase money if it fails to benefit.

Elks After "Sun" To Hold Minstrel

At a meeting held Sunday by the Portsmouth Lodge of B. P. O. Elks, a committee was named to confer with Gus Sun relative to securing the local Sun theatre here for three days during the month of February. The attendance was gratifyingly large and E. K. S. Clinkensbeard acted as chairman of the meeting. All the old-time stars are expected to get back in line. Mr. Sun has fixed a price on the local play-house, but an effort will be made to secure a more favorable contract. Mr. Clinkensbeard will head the committee that will call on Mr. Sun.

Guilty Couple Are Caught By Police

Frank Collier and Sarah Jones, formerly of Olive Hill, Ky., were fined $25 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse, Monday, for alleged living in adultery.

Capt. Cooper and Officer Harding appeared against the pair, testifying they caught them in a compromising attitude aboard Collier's house boat. The woman's sentence was later suspended when employment as a domestic was found for her. Charles Call, who was on the boat at the time the arrests were made, was fined $10 for disorderly conduct.

William Hubbard, who celebrated his return home after an absence of 14 years and did not get any further up-town than the Elk building, was fined $5 for intoxication.

"Yaller" Lotell, who was charged with stealing and selling for $3 a woman's belonging to the city, was fined $25 and sentenced to 60 days in the workhouse. John ("White Wing") Henderson was also ordered arrested, as he is said to have helped Lotell steal the rig.

Irene Carter, who was arrested for loitering, was ordered taken to the juvenile court and a suspended sentence to the Girls' Industrial Home will probably be put into effect. Her companion, Helen Deboard, was taken to Mrs. Lila Johnson's rescue home.

Demo Spalding was fined $10 and

HOME-MADE MEDICINE

Best and Cheapest for Coughs

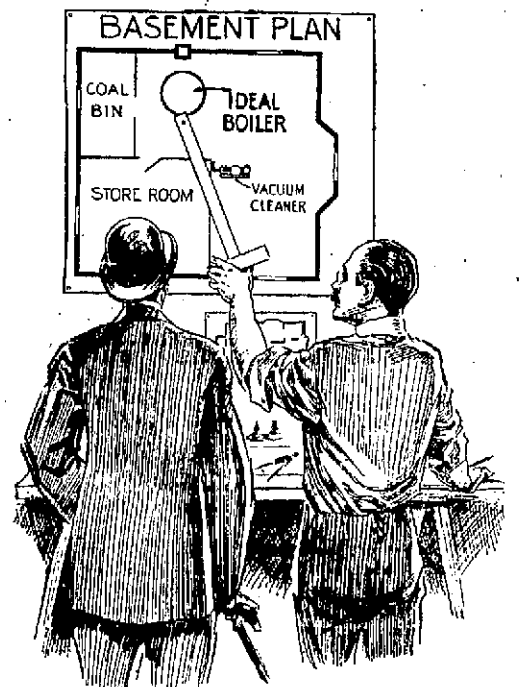

Most persons neglect a cough or cold for the principal reason that they either don't think it serious enough to go to a doctor, or don't know what good medicine to buy at a drug store, with the result that the cough or cold becomes deep-seated through this neglect and hangs on the whole winter—which might have otherwise been speedily cured, had Schellman's Concentrated Expecto-rant been used promptly.

This new remedy is so strongly concentrated that two ounces (50 cents worth) make a full pint (30 oz.) of excellent cough medicine, by simply adding it to water with one pint of granulated sugar and 1/2 pint of water. It makes a whole family supply, as much as would ordinarily cost from $2.00 to $3.00 for the same quantity of the old, ordinary, ready-made kinds of doubtful merit.

It is prepared from strictly harmless and is so pleasant that children like to take it and it can be given them with perfect safety as it positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine, or other narcotics, as do most cough mixtures. No risk whatever is run in buying this remedy as drug stores purchased below will refund money if it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found to be the very best remedy you have ever used for stubborn Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough and Hoarseness. The foundation of comfort!

Why put windows in a house and then not be able to sit in comfort close enough to them to work, or read, or enjoy the scene? Why pay $4000 for a house or $400 rent and then be cramped into the use of a few rooms due to inefficiency of old fashioned heating? Founded on lasting success is that building and its owner where the basic plan and thought hold fast and true to the principles of sanitary warmth, and a fuel economy that quickly converts an expenditure into a paying-investment, through

AMERICAN & IDEAL RADIATORS & BOILERS

Have you ever heard of anyone going back to other forms of heating once they tried IDEAL SMOKELESS Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators? Ever heard of any purchaser of these outfits not getting back the full price paid for them when offering his property for sale, or not obtaining 10 percent to 15 percent larger rental? Ever heard of a banker who would not promptly extend larger loan on property thus modernized?

A No. 2-12-W IDEAL Boiler and 441 sq. ft. of 36-in. AMERICAN Radiators, costing the owner $225, were used to heat this cottage. At this price the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent fitter. This did not include cost of labor, pipe, valves, fittings, etc., which vary according to climatic and other conditions.

Ever heard of anyone of the million or more users of IDEAL SMOKELESS Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators who will not enthusiastically testify that they save heavily in coal and cleaning, in time and temper, without rusting or repairs, and do away with the excessive bills and the ills of old fashioned heating?

IDEAL SMOKELESS Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators are the efficient, clean, healthful, silent, reliable servant of the houseowner—they do more for cheer, work-saving and economy than any other material or article you put into your house! They reduce the cost of living and better the living!

Extensive manufacturing in seven great countries of the world enables us to put into our outfits the best ideas and practices of their scientific and skilled men. Nowhere else, in any line, can the public obtain equal value or lower price.

Don't wait until you build, but put in at once the genuine, enduring foundation of heating comfort—IDEAL SMOKELESS Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators. Better act at once—iron prices are now the lowest in a decade, and at this season you are the service of the most skillful fitters. Ask for the (free) book of heating facts: "Ideal Heating." Put us under no obligation to buy. Accept no substitutes!

HAS ATTENDED EVERY MEETING OF HIS LODGE SINCE JUNE, 1896

Few, if any, fraternal men in Portsmouth can approach the record of William Gooden, proprietor of the Gooden brother shop, and member of Harmony lodge, Colored K. of P., who hasn't missed a lodge meeting since June 8th, 1896, almost 19 years.

During all that time, he has served the lodge in the office of keeper of records and seals, and has attended every meeting. Pomp had a good reason for missing the lodge meeting on June 8th, 1896, for it was on the evening of that day that he forsook single blessedness and embarked upon the sea of matrimony.

He was elected to the office of keeper of records and seals in 1891, and served one year, being advanced in 1892 to the position of chancellor commander, the highest office in the lodge. After serving in that office one year, he was again elected to his former office in 1893, and has served ever since, a period of 22 years.

He will be installed for the 23rd time on Monday evening along with the other officers for 1915, which include the following: Chancellor Commander, Carl Parker; Vice-Chancellor Commander, Frank McConnell; Preceptor, Grant Metcalf; Master of Exchequer, John Evans; Master of Finance, Frank Parker; Master-at-arms, Joseph Gains.

Prompt Action Will Stop Your Cough

When you first catch a cold (often indicated by a sneeze or cough), break it up at once. The idea that "It does not matter" often leads to serious complications. The remedy which immediately and easily penetrates the lining of the throat is the kind demanded. Dr. King's New Discovery soothes the irritation, loosens the phlegm. You feel better at once. "It seemed to reach the very spot of my Cough" is one of many honest testimonials. 50¢ at your Druggist.

THE OLD AND THE NEW GOVERNOR.

By the exigencies of politics, James M. Cox is today a private citizen and Frank B. Willis rules in his stead as the governor of Ohio.

Mr. Cox retires from office with the knowledge that he has ever worked for what he believed to be the best interests of the state; that he has set a new standard in governmental affairs in so far as keeping faith with the people concerned. He came into office with a new constitution that required the passage of innumerable laws to make it operative. The platform upon which he was elected guaranteed that if entrusted with power, the Democratic party would, by legislation, honestly try to put into effect the provisions of the new constitution. Governor Cox, in his campaign speeches, reiterated this pledge and what is more he meant exactly what he said. Once in office he worked with the sole idea in mind of keeping his pledged word to the people. He did not make the emendation but he could see that it was not rendered ineffectual by vicious legislation, and to his everlasting honor and credit to it said, he kept the faith, kept it in the face of the most bitter opposition. He was one governor who took his office seriously, too seriously for his own temporary political future, as events proved. The passage of the laws necessary by the new constitution trampled on too many peoples' toes, raised up a host of enemies among persons bent to exploit the public for private gain, and the result was that the governor went down to defeat by a narrow margin at the last election.

Beaten and retiring from office, he has yet a greater hold upon the affections of the people than ever, and it is not without probability that he will again be called upon to finish the good work, the great work, that he has so well begun. The good wishes of the great majority of the citizens of Ohio follow the ex-governor into private life and they trust that his future may be along pleasant lines.

The new governor, Mr. Willis, is a fine type of American manhood and The Times trusts that he will meet the many difficulties that confront him with courage and skill and with an eye single to the general good. He has the opportunity not only to make a name for himself but also to make himself a figure in national politics by a broad, honest, dignified administration of affairs; an administration that will seek to strengthen rather than to tear down the progressive measures of the Cox regime, that will look to the general public good rather than to petty, partisan advantage that may come with the possession of a few offices. It is to be expected, we would not have it otherwise, that Mr. Willis will fill offices as they fall vacant with Republicans, but we do hope that the new governor is big enough to rise above the clamors of statesmen of the Doc Hay type who would suspend the constitution in order to grab the spoils of office.

THE LOCAL WATER RENT QUESTION.

The effort of Mayor Frick to get the water works on a more systematic basis, whether that may mean a meter system or something else, is to be commended, as all will agree that we have been running on a rather haphazard plan. Personally we are inclined to think that in the long run the meter system will be the most economical, not only to the city but also to the consumers. The only dissatisfaction that might arise would be over the initial cost of the meters and this could be arranged on a rental basis. Our water rent here has been very low, considering and it is not to be expected that it will always remain at the figure now prevailing. However, by rigid economy in the operation of the plant and also economy in the use of water, there is no reason why the price to consumers should not remain at a very low figure. We feel certain that the mayor and his advisers will work out a plan that will be entirely satisfactory to the public and at the same time will permit of the operation of the new plant on a paying basis.

In this connection there has been an investigation going on at Harrisburg, Pa., of the comparative cost of water in various cities, due to charges that a corporation in charging a minimum of $18 a hydrant is robbing consumers. Experts testified that the average cost for a single hydrant in 365 communities is $6.28. The minimum rate in Portsmouth is well within this average.

We hope that the local applicants for jobs at Columbus took due note of the settled fact that our new governor is fond of corn on the cob. It ought to help a patriot come to be able to present the governor with a few messes of personally raised roasting ears.

We had been under the impression that "Mother" Jones' activity in the Colorado coal strike was due to her devotion to the cause for which the miners fought and her passionate belief that the miners were right in their contention. Our faith in her enthusiasm is a little jured when we read that she was on a $940 a year salary and that her expenses for the year as paid amounted to $1,726.62, though of course there is no reason why she should not be paid for her work. We, however, had her on a little pedestal as one working without money and without price in the interests of humanity.

Glad the census is not being taken today. So many office seekers are away helping Frank B. grab the government, you know.

Another reason why we should have a new depot is that travel to Columbus will be very popular in certain circles for the next few months. And it would never do to have our patriots set out for the capital, with wet, cold feet, which they are liable to get by walking through the snow and mud to the trains.

How strangely silent are those papers that used to lament about the "awful horde of Democratic office seekers."

It becomes more apparent every day that what Mexico needs is a man of horseback. If they run shy of material we always have Teddy in reserve.

Having read with unbiased mind the various white, orange, yellow, blue and green papers issued by the various warring European countries, it seems to us that while everybody was lustily shouting for peace, everybody was equally as busy as bees in making preparations for war and looking for an opening to get in the first kick. At the same time the Kaiser's diplomatic jockeys allowed the other fellows to put him in a pocket and there he stayed until the flag dropped on the finish of the preliminaries.

Ours is a law abiding community and no matter what the aggravation of offense there is no talk of such violence aside from the loose utterances of a few irresponsible persons. This is largely due to the fact that we have sure and swift enforcement of the law here and that our people have confidence in our courts.

Only One Direction

They may turn the screws out
And may put new screws in,
But the cost of living rises just the same.
They can monkey with the tariff
From "bananas" down to "tin,"
But the cost of living rises just the same.
They can jail the malefactors of great wealth for money lust,
They can probe the ways of Wall street and dissolve most every trust,
They can shout for equal liberty and rights until they bust,
But the cost of living rises just the same.

The statesmen can get busy,
Wave the old flag and onto,
But the cost of living rises just the same.

They may threaten, they may bluster, they may scream
and paw the air,
They may plead and they may grovel
and in madness tear their hair,
They may tell of real conditions and the awful truth lay bare,
But the cost of living rises just the same.

Married At 15, She Is Grandmother At 32

Lynn, Mass., Jan. 11.—Mrs. Geo. F. Hanson, of this city, claims the distinction of being the youngest grandmother in the United States. She is thirty-two. She was married at the age of fifteen. So was her daughter, the mother of the grandchild. The other grand-children are Mr. and Mrs. Fred De Lodge, of Fitchburg, who are sixty-seven and fifty-seven, respectively.

MRS. ROGERSTON BE INDICTED

New York, Jan. 11.—District Attorney Francis Martin, of Bronx county, announced last night that he will go before the grand jury today with a demand for an indictment of murder against Mrs. Ida Shiffen Walters, who called herself Mrs. Rogers, after leaving her husband for Lorry Elton Rogers, the Park Row lawyer, and who gave poison to their eight-months-old daughter, Lorinda, and their two-and-a-half-year old son, John.

Mrs. Walters is confined in a private room in the Lebanon hospital, where she is held pending complete recovery from the poison she swallowed after giving doses of it to her babies.

A SURPRISE

The Greenwich Republican says: "Arby Ward gave his friends a surprise by sending the beautiful daughter of Thos. Heron, of Argillite, and motivated to Portsmouth and were bound in the holy bonds of matrimony. The groom was a handsome young man and much loved by all who knew him. The bride was a most beautiful and admired young lady. Their last of friends join us in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous life. May their joys be as deep as the ocean and their sorrows as light as the foam."

BURTON TO WAR ON PORK BILL

Washington, Jan. 11.—It is the River and Harbors Appropriation bill, now before the House, goes to the Senate with the items which caused the fight with the House last session, the fight will be renewed. Senator Burton, who led the fight against the bill last year, declares that any means were justified to prevent appropriation so vicious as those in the previous River and Harbor bill.

Conference Report Ready For Congress

Washington, Jan. 11.—The report of the conference committee on the immigration bill with the provision for a literacy test for aliens seeking admission to the United States was sent to the House and Senate today for final action.

It was believed that opposition would develop in the senate to the action of the conference in striking out the amendment to exempt Belgian agriculturists from the literacy test for a period of one year after the European war.

WILL INQUIRE INTO ADVANCE IN WHEAT

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Federal investigation into the present high price of wheat was to begin here today to determine whether speculation or attempted "food cornering" has had anything to do with the recent sensational rise in the market.

Bert L. Hopkins, assistant United States district attorney, who is in charge of the inquiry, was prepared to summons a long list of bakers, grain men, grocers and commission merchants for investigation. Federal States District Attorney Charles F. Cline said that the investigation would be thorough.

The board of directors of the National Retail Bakers and Grocers' Association was scheduled to meet today to consider the question of the effect of the wholesale price on the middle men.

KING ALBERT SHOWS KINDNESS TO WOMAN

Geneva, Jan. 11.—The Lausanne Gazette tells the story of how a young Parisian woman, recently married to a French artillery officer, won her way to her husband's side at the front in Flanders. She first tried to obtain a pass of the French authorities, failing in this she traveled in a peasant's cart for several days to the Belgian headquarters. She met with a polite reception and a polite refusal.

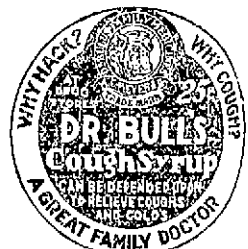

A tall officer looked up from a map he was studying and intervened. "Madame," he said, "a French woman could not have undertaken such a voyage for nothing." He took up the telephone, and after conversing a moment with the wire said: "Your husband will be here soon." He ordered that lodgings be found for the young woman, who thanked the "tall kind officer" and warmly shook both his hands.

Two hours later her husband, puzzled at his recent from the trenches, was astonished to find himself in the embrace of his young wife. Both were further surprised to learn that it was the King of the Belgians who had arranged the meeting.

WOMEN HAVE PLAN TO END THE WAR

Washington, Jan. 11.—Plans were being worked out here today to nationalize the movement launched at a woman's mass meeting yesterday under the auspices of the delegates to the Woman's Conference for Peace, when a peace program was adopted looking to a practical solution of a means to end the war. Leaders in suffrage and peace movements in this country and abroad made addresses on peace.

It is proposed in the program to enlist all American women in arousing the nations to respect the sacredness of human life and to abolish war. The program then sets forth a means to this end. Features of the plan provide for the immediate calling of a conven-

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Jan. 11.—There was little interruption in the stock market today. Gains ran from 1 to 2 points in the leaders, to considerably more in the specialties.

Speculation showed increasing breadth in the final close and the inquiry for the standard stock became general. Maxwell Motors first preferred and International Harvesters gained five points each.

Early dealings showed the usual narrow movement in leading issues, changes from last week being merely fractional. The anti-trust shares opened with advances, likewise Seaboard Airline.

Trading again drifted to the special group soon after the opening, with substantial gains in equipment and motor issues. Bethlehem Steel was the feature of the industrials, advancing two points to a new high level, while Smelting rose in sympathy with lead. Gains of one to four points were recorded before mid-day in Reading, Northern Pacific, New York Central, Penna., Canadian Pacific and Delaware and Hudson while Louisville and Nashville made further recovery.

preferred and Colorado Fuel. Later Baltimore and Ohio and several specialties moved forward, National Lead rising 1 5-8 points. United States Steel and Union Pacific were inclined to react, but soon recovered. A new low price was made by Runwell Common. In London, Americans were there, with the exception of Canadian Pacific and New York Central.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Uncertainty as to the outcome of the difficulties between Turkey and Italy tended to make fluctuations in the grain market today.

At the outset, the general temper was bullish but offerings were quickly absorbed by strong interests. As a result, the prices took a swift upturn, but the effect failed to last, and a decided reaction ensued. After opening 1-8 to 7-8 lower, the market rallied to as much as 1 cent advance, Saturday night's level, and later lost nearly all the gain.

Corn showed weaker relatively than wheat. Consignment notices from growers were said to be fairly liberal. The opening which was unchanged to 1-4 off, was followed by a moderate upturn, with increased weakness later.

Outs merely reflected the course of other grain. Changes, though, were narrow.

Severe censorship of cables kept dealers here in doubt until after midday. Then market dropped 5 1/2 or more from earlier figures owing to rumors that the forts at the Dardanelles were giving way to the allies, and that immense stores of Russian wheat would be sent to the allies.

DON'T MISS THE COLUMBIA T O - N I G H T !

Francis X. Bushman in "The Battle of Love"

In this fourth complete prize mystery play, produced in conjunction with the Ladies' World, the complete story appears in the magazine for January, with the exception of one paragraph. Find the lost paragraph. Also Pathe's Weekly of Current Events.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, elopements, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 60. Residence A-490.

Dear Dolly.—How can a person get on the good side of girls?

BULLIE.

By being manly and courteous, by reading up on current topics, so that you can talk sensibly, by being neat but not a dude in dress, by treating all girls with respect. In these ways you can win the respect of sensible girls.

Miss Dolly Wise.—I am a young man 20 years old. I am going or was going with a young lady about my own age. During the holidays my present to her was flowers and candy which were sent to her home. I was told afterwards that if I would have taken them over she would have handed them back to me. Now I am at sea as to her direct attitude toward me. What would you do?

P. S.—Are cut flowers and candy appropriate?

HER FRIEND.

Sure flowers or candy was the proper thing to give the girl if you were not engaged to her. One or the other would have been sufficient. She showed her ill-breeding by acting the way she did. If she cared anything about you she would have shown her appreciation even if you had only sent her a Christmas card.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

Times Service Pattern

1171. A stylish becoming frock for the growing girl.

How jaunty, up to date and becoming this design is, in all its simplicity. It will require little by way of decoration. The right front crosses over the left in unique shaping. The long shoulder style feature, and a popular in wrist length with a band cuff, or in short length with turn back cuff, is equally good. Shaped trimming pieces are added over the fronts, and meet a wide waist. The skirt joins the waist under a wide belt. As here shown luxuriantly cashmere with striped silk for belt and trimming, was used. In brown gabardine, with brown and white checked trimming this style would make a neat school dress. It will also develop nicely in Russian green serge, with facings or collar or white pique. In linen, ratine, voile, crepe, velvet or corduroy it is equally attractive and desirable. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. It requires 3½ yards of 44-inch material for a 10-year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Orders for patterns are forwarded to New York to be filled, hence it requires several days for the pattern to reach the purchaser. Patterns can not be ordered by telephone. Do not use postage stamps for larger denomination than two cents.

CAUTION—Order adult pattern by number of pattern, giving bust measure for waist patterns, and waist measure for skirt patterns. For Misses and Children give number of pattern and age only.

COUPON

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 10 cents. Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to Pattern Department, Portsmouth Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio

I have tried lemons and "Frogs" but without results. I go to church and love to sing, but my voice is so husky I can not sing. Thanking you very much.

LONESOME PINE.

Consult a physician. If you have throat trouble you ought not try to sing.

Dear Miss Wise.—In the paper a few nights ago where I asked you what could I do to keep from blushing, you said if I wrote the other question you did not think it was very helpful. Well, I certainly wrote it, but I don't think I haven't got no choice of men. I do like a real good man, but they are very scarce in Portsmouth, although this has always been my happy home. Now Dolly, please give me advice on bashfulness. I blush at every little thing.

LONESOME GIRL.

SOCIETY

The New Century Club will meet Friday afternoon at the Woman's Club parlors, where officers for the ensuing year will be elected. The program will be presented as follows:

Song—Club.
Responses—Prominent Women.
Music—Czerwinski Trio.
Paper, "The Future Woman"—Miss Thyrza Spory.
Song—Club.
Club Tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hill and baby left yesterday for their home in Charleston, W. Va.

The Fourth Street Methodist church Epworth League will meet this evening at the home of Miss Maud Reigel, on Eleventh street.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Managers of the Home for Aged Women was held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Anne Reed, where only the regular business was transacted.

Mrs. J. M. Graham was hostess at this afternoon's meeting of the Bigelow Methodist Reading Circle.

The little son born December 11th to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brennan was christened Daniel Lee Sunday afternoon at Holy Redeemer church. Rev. J. E. McGuirk officiating. Mr. Arthur Yenciger and Miss Edna Brennan were the sponsors.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sander came home Saturday from Cincinnati, where Mrs. Sander went to have her eyes treated.

Mrs. Levi D. York and daughter, Mrs. Finis Ernest, left yesterday for St. Louis, Mo., and will be joined Saturday by Mr. York.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Central Presbyterian church will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Adam Pfau, on Eleventh street.

Mrs. Julia Sowers and daughter, Mrs. Philip Pfau, went to Wait's Station this morning to see Mr. B. W. Yelley, brother of Mrs. Sowers, who was recently stricken with paralysis.

Mrs. L. P. Haldeman, who has been visiting relatives in Cleveland, will arrive home this evening.

Capt. and Mrs. Harry Donally, of Court street, returned home Monday from an extended visit among relatives at New Matamoras, O.

Several days ago the Daughters of America of Kenton, O., tendered a magnificent reception to Mrs. Frank E. Willis, wife of Governor Willis. Among the guests present at the big function was Mrs. Henry Hamilton of Portsmouth.

Mrs. Kathryn Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Sullivan, for a day at the city and a student of the Portsmouth High School, has entered St. Ursuline's Academy, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Gordon Redwell, of Bonneau, Va., formerly of Portsmouth, is visiting his uncle, Henry Dismore, of this city.

Blushing won't hurt you, little one. You ought to be glad you don't have to "fint" your cheeks. You can probably overcome it by getting out among people more, and forgetting about yourself.

Miss Dolly Wise.—Will you please tell me how long it has been since the Toll Gates were used on the Chillicothe pike and just where they were located between Portsmouth and Piketon? OLD FASHION YOUNG MAN.

I cannot remember that far back. Perhaps some old resident will phone in the desired information.

Dear Dolly.—Can you give me the recipe for veal prepared in Hungarian fashion?

DAILY READER.

Take one pound veal and cut in large cubes. Take two small onions, and fry in butter or oil. Put in the veal and fry brown, then slowly add water, cover and boil slowly until a rich gravy is formed. Season with salt and paprika.

One Aimed Towards Right.—Do what you think is right and do not pay any attention to such a busy body.

The C. T. N. Circle of the First Baptist church, will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. John Overman, 1161 Twelfth street.

The Portsmouth Reading Club will meet this evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Rardin, on Gallia avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Grimes came home yesterday from their wedding trip to Pinehurst, N. C., where they spent the past ten days.

The Pricillius will be entertained Friday afternoon, instead of Thursday, at the home of Mrs. J. W. Dunning, on Fourth street.

The men of the First Presbyterian church will give a social Thursday evening, when stereopticon views will be a part of the program.

Mr. Alex Altman quickly celebrated his seventy-first birthday anniversary today at his home on Lincoln Hill. His hosts of friends remembered him with beautiful post-cards.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lange left yesterday for their home in Columbus and were accompanied by Miss Madeline Augustin, who will make them a short visit.

Mrs. Jay Lee Cross and baby, of Cleveland, will arrive this evening to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Peebles.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Daily have returned home after a week-end visit with friends and relatives at Sargents.

Robert Harr, who was removed to the hospital last week on account of typhoid fever, is getting along nicely. The senior class of the High school, of which Robert is the president, sent him flowers today.

Mr. and Mrs. Allard, of Jackson, O., returned home after spending several days at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Micklethwait.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Boyles last night, at their home in the Odd Fellows' building. This makes five children in the Boyles family now.

Friends of Mrs. Ruggless, who has been very ill at the home of her son, Mr. Ralph Ruggless, on Glover street, will be glad to learn that she is improving somewhat.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Tinsley are packing their household goods preparatory to leaving for Indiana, where they will take charge of Mr. Tinsley's father's farm. Mr. Tinsley has been in poor health for some time.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, of Columbus, formerly of Portsmouth, will leave soon for Pinehurst, N. C., and from there will go to Florida for the benefit of his health.

R. L. Lloyd, who came to see his mother, Mrs. Ella Lloyd, who recently fell and hurt her hip, left yesterday for his home in Minneapolis, Minn.

The Ladies' Musical program will be presented next Monday evening, January 19th, instead of in the afternoon, in the High school auditorium, where Miss Lollie Anderson will be in charge of the program. A small admission will be charged for those who are not members of the Musicales. The program follows:

The Ladies' Aid Society of the German Evangelical church will give a coffee social Wednesday afternoon.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Willis, of Sciotoville, was the scene of a happy gathering of people Saturday night, Jan. 9th, being Mrs. Willis' 24th birthday anniversary. It was a pleasant surprise to her, gotten up by her mother, Mrs. C. C. Tenninger and Mrs. T. C. Albrecht, of Portsmouth. Those present were Mrs. Theo. Braham, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Albrecht and son, John, Henry and Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Albrecht, Mrs. T. C. Albrecht and daughter, Ruth, Miss Nellie Wolfe and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Albrecht of Mun's Run; Misses Mary and Bridget Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Willis and three children, Chas. J., Virginia M., Thos. Willis, and Mrs. C. C. Tenninger. The evening was spent in singing and piano music. Supper was served at 10 o'clock. After all had eaten, there was a scramble to get to the car in time to get to Portsmouth. All left wishing the hostesses many more happy returns of the day. May each birthday be happier than the last, is the wish of her many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Dancer entertained with a six o'clock dinner yesterday. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Hilbert, and son, Carl Hilbert, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Todd, of Chicago, Mr. Albert Hoffman, also of Chicago, Miss Mary Reutinger, Mr. William Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Bauer and son Billy.

Inaugural Address Of Governor Willis

Columbus, Jan. 11.—After his inauguration as governor of Ohio, Frank H. Willis spoke, in part, as follows: To the People of Ohio:

The inauguration of officials with its attendant ceremonies, however simple or imposing, is by no means an expression by the people of their personal interest in the individuals temporarily entrusted with authority, nor is it a partisan occasion for expression of glorification over political victory or criticism of a vanquished foe. It is rather an occasion in which all the people, regardless of party differences, receive the pledge of loyal and devoted service from those in whose hands a portion of the people's power has been placed for a brief term and who in turn by their presence, actual or constructive, pledge themselves to uphold the hands of their chosen officials in all honest efforts to secure obedience to the laws and to promote the public welfare.

It is said that in certain of the Swiss cantons a part of the ceremonies attendant upon the induction into office of the chief magistrate is the administering to the assembled people of a solemn oath to obey the laws by him who as chief magistrate of the canton has just taken the oath to enforce the laws. In this commonwealth we deem it unnecessary to pledge the people to obey their own laws and maintain their own government, because such fealty is implied even though not expressed by solemn ceremony.

In such a state as ours where the people themselves are the source of all power and where the constitution is general and well grounded in the past government is the one closest to the people, with the constitutional safeguards and limitations found to be necessary by the experience of the past, the sense of respect for the law and obedience to its precepts is high and must not be offended. The chief duty of the executive is to see that the laws are faithfully executed. This duty will be performed unflinchingly to the end that the dignity of the state may be upheld and its citizens protected by the uniform enforcement of its laws throughout the commonwealth.

It is well that this sense of responsibility should rest upon all of us—citizens as well as lawmakers, judges and executive officials. In a benevolent despotism the obligation of the subject is slight; it is his to obey, not to question. Centralized authority makes the laws for him, appoints his officials, levies his taxes and spends his revenues for him. His sense of responsibility grows constantly less, and, therefore, his worth as a citizen is by so much diminished. It is not impossible that in a benevolent autocracy a higher degree of moral routine efficiency and scientific skill for a time may be attained than in a government by the people; but this greater efficiency would be only temporary. It is the lesson of a thousand years of toil and battle and struggle for free government that false temporary efficiency gives way to slothfulness, needless multiplication of offices, political claims and extravagant expenditures. Efficiency is desirable in government and it can be obtained without autocracy; to deny this is to admit free government of incapacity and to assert that government by the people is a myth. Efficiency is important, self-government is vital. The remedy for any possible weakness of government by the people is the cultivation of a spirit of self-interest, but as a matter of self-interest.

The fathers wisely provided for a division of governmental functions into legislative, judicial and executive. If the struggle for free government, centuries old and worldwide, has made any one proposition absolutely clear it is that the making of the laws and the execution of them should not be in the same hands. Neither should the legislative or executive departments undertake to control the judiciary; each should be free to perform its function, free from the constitution, untrammelled by fear and uncontrolled by dictation.

This was good doctrine a century ago and it is good doctrine now. Its everlasting verities do not decay with the flight of time. A legislature, a congress or a parliament, once it became accustomed to executive domination, would soon lose its power of initiative and its vitality and become an inane and helpless thing, unworthy of respect and useless as an institution of government. The experience of civilized mankind has shown that the details of legislation must best be wrought by the elected representatives of the people, rather than to the people to take the initiative or to pass final judgment on the wisdom or propriety of legislative acts, in certain cases. This does not mean that the executive department shall have no share in legislation. It should have, and during its administration that power will be vigorously exercised within the limits prescribed by the constitution. Its responsibility will be shirked, not extended. The elected heads of the executive departments are authorized by the mandate of the people as expressed at the recent election shall be established in legislation and in administration to the end that there may be reticence in the expenditures, abolishment of what is not necessary to an efficient service and decentralization of power without impairing the enforcement of the law. To the accomplishment of these desired ends the executive departments will lend all aid within their constitutional power without attempting to set up a dictatorship or to detract from the efforts which properly come to the members of the legislative assembly from a wise source of these great problems.

Self-government is on trial. Let us stand by it. We shall nobly save it or we shall lose the last, best hope of the world. That hope was "angely saved" by our fathers a generation ago. We must not and will not "measly lose" it now. Mindful of the past, cherishing its heroic memories and reverencing its well taught lessons, the people of Ohio have their faces toward the future and will apply time-tried principles of equity and humanity to new situations arising from changed conditions. Insofar as the activities of the state can be utilized to humanize the relations between its citizens it must spare no effort to protect the weak, to relieve the oppressed, to remedy inequalities, to give hope and comfort and aid to the unfortunate—all this without injustice to any legitimate interest, individual or corporate. To these policies of humanity, economy, self-government and law enforcement, the incoming administration—both legislative and executive—is definitely pledged. Each department of government is mindful of pledges publicly made; sustained by an alert, discriminating public opinion, it will discharge its full duty under the laws and the constitution. Fortunately for the people in our state not all the executive power is vested in the governor. The constitution provides for the election of a lieutenant governor, a secretary of state, an attorney general, an auditor of state and a treasurer of state; these officials so chosen directly by the people themselves are responsible to the people and have duties to perform but little if any less in importance than those assigned to the governor.

It is one of the evils of concentrated authority that the people come to look to the executive solely for needed changes in legislation, disregarding their own immediate constitutional representatives in the lawmaking bodies. Give your senators and representatives a chance. They are able to aid you in working out reforms demanded in legislation. Keep in close touch with them; assist them by your counsel and advice; for in the last analysis theirs is the responsibility of lawmaking and to them will properly belong the credit for wise legislation.

In due time the executive will communicate to the general assembly his recommendations as to legislation to carry into effect the pledges upon which a majority of the members of that body are elected and to bring to the people the benefits of a more economical and less centralized government. My only recommendation at this time is that in the accomplishment of these great reforms demanded by the electorate at the polls, there be an small volume of legislation as is consistent with the public interest.

In the working out of these great problems of government by the general assembly it is hoped that party lines will not be drawn as they certainly were not drawn in the election just passed. With the flight of years party lines have become somewhat and a majority of the voters are no longer controlled by the maxim: "My party, right or wrong." Political organizations can no longer depend for success upon their great achievements in a distant and fast receding past; they must be alert, mainly progressive and fully abreast of the times; if they would win they must hold fast to the everlasting principles of American self-government and merit the confidence and support of the electorate by demonstrating their capacity for service and commending themselves to the judgment and conscience of the people.

This mighty throng recalls other inaugurations, different faces, strange garbs back in the days when Ohio began to be. From out the hallowed mists of a glorious past come the faces of the mighty men who have adorned the executive office by their service. I may not name them but the memory of those courageous hearts and giant intellects bids me bow my head in humility. Our hearts thrill with patriotic pride at the memory of their mighty achievements. My humble prayer is not that I may excel them but rather that I may pass on to my successors unswayed by these stalwart patriots of a generation gone have given to us unstinted. There is inspiration in the thought that from out the mysterious depths of shadowland will come the spirits of the mighty dead and stand by our side and uphold our hands if we fight for the right. I venture to hope that from my illustrious predecessors still among us I may have good wishes and friendly guidance in a conscientious effort to do the right, even though passing political differences have divided some of us. Yet their friendly advice and the inspiration of the mighty spirits which we pray may hover around and protect us will avail but little without the guidance and approval of Him who holds the nations in the hollow of His hand. With hearts overflowing with gratitude to the Almighty for the blessing we now enjoy, and with souls crying out for His guidance in all things, let us dedicate ourselves to the task of establishing and maintaining justice, mercy, truth and fraternal good will. Inspired by the heroic story of Ohio's past, encouraged by the blessings conferred to us in the present let us face the future of human progress determined to do our part conscientiously, uprightly and in the fear of God.

Additional Dividend

An additional five per cent dividend was declared Monday by C. M. Weyand, receiver of the Broad Shoe Company, upon the authority of Judge Thomas. It was the fourth dividend declared since the company has been in the receiver's hands, fifty per cent having so far been recovered by the stockholders.

According to a statement issued by the Norfolk and Western railroad Saturday over $7,000,000 worth of improvements, exclusive of double tracking, were made during the past year.

Some of the work was in progress in 1913 and completed in 1914, and some is now under way which it is expected to complete this year. The approximate cost of the second track work is $39,000,000 and to complete the work an additional $7,000,000 will be required. The road also will place in operation before long their electric equipment, which extends over a distance of 30 miles between Vivian, W. Va., and Bluefield, W. Va. This improvement cost $3,300,000. Similar improvements have been made all along the line.

For the month of November the railway operating revenues showed a decrease of $614,928.21 over the same period for the year previous. The net income showed a decrease of $214,181.23.

STAR LECTURERS TO BE AT HAVERHILL, O., INSTITUTE

Entertaining and instructive lectures will be given at the Haverhill, O., institute, which will be held in the Methodist church at that place, January 20 and 21. Sessions will be held morning, afternoon and evening.

C. F. GREEN, Farmer Institute Lecturer, Pataskala, Ohio.

Buckeye birth. Son of J. D. Green, former member of State Board of Agriculture. First twenty years of life spent on father's farm among high-grade and registered stock. Entered college at Granville academy and graduated in scientific course. Attended Zanesville Business College. Six years teaching in public schools. Two years in government employ. Associated with father in breeding pure bred live stock. For fifteen years engaged in various large enterprises along cattle feeding and dairy lines in south and west. Came back to Ohio and located near Pataskala, Licking county. Married. Three daughters. Closely associated with all social, educational and religious movements.

Following are the subjects upon which Mr. C. F. Green will speak at this season's institute work:

1. Hillside Farming.
2. Soil Maintenance.
3. Use and Abuse of Commercial Fertilizers.
4. Relative Importance of Live Stock.
5. Milk or Beef Production.
6. Farm and Home Conveniences.
7. Legumes.
8. Two Modern Yard Sticks.

A carefully prepared synopsis now on file in office of Director of Institutes will insure a systematic and logical presentation of his work. With practical experience to back the work it should prove interesting and instructive to all.

S. W. BURLINGAME, Farmer Institute Lecturer, Caldwell, Ohio.

A Buckeye by birth. Age 45. Married—family, wife and two sons. Farm boy. Began by general farming, but having a taste for fruit growing, is slowly but surely tending that way. He now has 300 plum trees in bearing on a steep hillside; 1,300 peach trees are growing. Now growing on farm 2,800 fruit trees. Much system in following. Careful spraying, picking and packing. Market, nearby towns in a mining country. Buildings in good repair. One hundred and fifteen acres in farm. Some are partners in business. Aggressive, ambitious and a leader among his fellows. Subjects:

1. Planning and Care of Fruit Trees.
2. The Home Marketing of Fruits.
3. Commercial Fruit Growers.
4. How We Grow Grapes and Why.
5. The Importance of the Ohio Experiment Station.
6. Cement and Its Uses.
7. Some Reasons Why Boys Leave the Farm.

The above subjects are logically treated by Mr. Burlingame, and practically discussed from an experienced standpoint.

From a carefully prepared synopsis worked out and on file in the office of the Director of Institutes the above subjects will be delivered in a logical, practical and entertaining way.

The Ohio river passed the 35 ft. mark here Monday morning and was still slowly rising. The Big Sandy and Kanawha rivers are falling and it is not likely that a 40 ft. stage will be reached here. The big run of the Allegheny river river was passing here Monday morning and packets are once again through out of schedule.

Ice is still interfering with the shipments of coal out of Pittsburgh. The newly overhauled packet Ohio will be substituted for the steamer Joseph Fowler to make the Mardi Gras trip to New Orleans early next month.

At their regular meeting last Friday evening, the Daughters of America decided to enlist themselves in the movement for the election of a woman as member of the school board. A committee, headed by Mrs. Henry Bibbe, was appointed to meet with the Mothers' Club of the Lower Fourth street school building at its next meeting, to propose a union of the forces of both organizations to that end.

Going Back To Buena

Squire James Platt and Fred Weghorst, who for the past year have operated a blacksmith shop near Fourth and Court streets, have decided to return to Buena Vista. The latter moved to the village a few days ago and the squire will follow some time this week.

CLARA SMITH RODGERS, Farmer Institute Lecturer, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Of Ohio birth. Raised on a farm and now the wife of a practical farmer. Graduate of Ohio State university—B. S., 1908. One year post-graduate work at O. S. U. Assistant in Home Economics one year at Ohio State university. Assistant in Home Economics one year Kansas Agricultural college. Two years in charge of Home Economics Department State Normal, North Dakota. A number of years' experience in Ohio Institute work, besides experience in Ohio State university extension work.

The following subjects will be discussed by Mrs. Rodgers at this season's meetings:

1. Home Decorating.
2. A Study of Foods.
3. Sanitation in the Farm Home.
4. Home Care of the Sick.
5. Bread. (A dozen loaves should be brought to the institute for judging.)

Irene and Ellen Caught With A Man

Irene Carter, of Third street, and Ellen Deboard, of New Boston, and a man giving his name as Ed Jones were locked up by Officers Harding and Emmett late Saturday night.

The officers caught the trio in York Place, one other man who was in the party making his escape. The arrests were made at the instance of the Carter girl's father. She is but 15 years of age and is already under a suspended sentence from the juvenile court. The other girl is said to have been living in a shanty below the park. Jones was released on bond. Judge Beatty will give the girls a hearing Tuesday.

Members of the Brewery Workers' Union, at their meeting Sunday morning, decided to affiliate in a body with the Labor Home Rule League. This decision was taken at the conclusion of an address by the secretary of the league, William Abrahams, who spoke for about twenty minutes. The meeting was held in the old engine house on Madison street.

The directors organized by electing Judge A. T. Holcomb, president; Mrs. E. M. Walker, vice-president; U. A. Swishhelm, secretary, treasurer and general manager. The Portsmouth Veneer & Panel Company were re-elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders Saturday afternoon.

BREAKS A COLD, OPENS CLOGGED HEAD AND NOSE

Relief comes instantly. A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken, will end gripe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and clear passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.

Rev. Albert Marting, pastor of Fourth Street Methodist Episcopal church, has returned from Dayton, Ohio, where he assisted in the conducting of a very successful revival in the German Methodist Episcopal church there. A good number of people were saved and the entire church membership stirred. During the last four days of the campaign the Gospel Quartet, of which Rev. Marting was a member, sang 101 songs. Mr. Charles Kiefer, formerly of Portsmouth, is one of the wide-awake and active officials of the Dayton church.

Up until the last half minute of the game the West Enders and Tigers were tied, but in this half minute a field goal by Schrieck and a foul goal by Graf won the game for the West End boys, who have not lost a game this season. The Tigers got a big lead in the first half with Gims and Krieker starting, but lost out in the last half.

BIBLE CLASS HAD A FINE SESSION

(By J. E.)

A spirited session of the Every Man's Bible Class was held at the Fourth Street Methodist church Sunday morning, the attendance being 31 as against 24 one year ago. Plenty of enthusiasm was shown in the study of the lesson, "Deborah, the Prophetess." Deborah, who is recognized as one of the greatest women that ever lived, called Israel to arms, and commanded Barak to lead them against the Canaanites, who had been mistreating the Israelites. Because of her communion with Jehovah, her vision was enlarged and acting upon faith and fidelity, resulted in her being a deliverer and benefactor. The discussion of the lesson brought out the question concerning the true meaning of religion. The final verdict was that true religion was the result of being in close relation to God, through faith in His Son, and following out His principles in every day life. Come next Sunday and help the class grow numerically as well as in knowledge.

BOYS STEAL PIGEONS

The police secured confessions from a number of East End boys Sunday night, which they say clears up the wholesale stealing of pigeons over town the past fortnight.

Officer Ridings found an unusual number of pigeons at the home of Marshall Sergeant, of No. 822 Prospect street, and secured an admission from him that he had stolen pigeons from five different places. He implicated others, it is said, and police located Ora Carber, of High street, Glenn Moore, Harry and Leo Hodge. All confessed to stealing fully 100 pigeons and were ordered to appear in court Monday.

Among pigeon fanciers whose places were raided were Nell Bok, of Robinson avenue and Offshore street, Oliver Trowbridge, of 1732 Seventeenth street, Roy Cropper, of 2130 Ninth street, and the Edwards family of Seventh street, above Boundary street.

Sues For Commission

Suit to recover judgment for $100, amount alleged due him as commission on a land deal, was filed in common pleas court Monday morning by Attorney Horace L. Small, representing R. S. Bender, R. H. Haggard and Daisy Haggard, his wife, are named as defendants.

Bender avers that he was employed by the defendants on January 13, 1913, to find a purchaser for their farm in Burton township, near Mt. Joy. The agreement was, he claims, that he was to keep all over $300 as his commission. He adds that on June 5, 1913, he found a purchaser, U. S. Porter, who agreed to pay $1,000 for the farm.

Bender's complaint is that the defendants refused to close the deal with Porter and also refused to pay his commission of $100, the amount for which he asks judgment.

GOT THE HORSE BUT PAID NOTE

Winchester C. Shaw succeeded in common pleas court Monday morning in recovering possession of a horse and buggy claimed by Henry C. Mershon on a note executed by the former's son, Homer C. Shaw. Mershon, however, recovered the sum of $79.20 on the note, which the father will have to pay. The case was to have been heard before the jury, but the attorneys agreed to submit it to the court.

Milner, Miller, and Seard represented Shaw, while Theodore K. Funk was Mershon's attorney.

At the conclusion of the hearing Mershon withdrew as surety on the bond of Homer Shaw, the son, who is awaiting examination by the grand jury on a paternity charge preferred by a Carey's Run girl. The charge was filed one day after Shaw's marriage to another girl. Judge Thomas ordered Shaw arrested, and he was apprehended at a local cafe a short time later by Deputy Sheriff Arthur and Nance. He is now in the county jail.

N. & W. freight first 84 pulled by engine 746 derailed 13 cars while pulling out of Williamsburg at the Cincinnati division Friday night. Conductor William Deitz and Engineer O. Salisbury were in charge. The cause of the derailment has not been determined, but it is supposed to have been the result of a broken rail. The Portsmouth and Clare wreckers repaired the cars.

Paul R. Duffey, N. & W. draftsman and assistant to Master Mechanic J. S. Pearce left Monday morning for Saltville, Va., to take a position as assistant master mechanic at the Mathison Alkali Works. Duffey who was always a friend to his fellow clerk will be missed about the Seoto Division offices.

Carl Warner of Gallia pike 1914 high school graduate has taken a position at the Irving Drew factory.

The N. & W. Shop Safety Committee held their monthly meeting Monday morning in the machine shop office. It was the first meeting of the new members. Following is the committee: W. L. Hyatt, temporary chairman; John Surry, blacksmith; George Hobbs, electrician; T. C. South, tinner; Edward Snyder, boilermaker; Chris Goeller, machinist.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will hold a meeting in their hall on Gallia street Wednesday.

The Seoto Division Safety Committee will hold their first meeting of the year in Columbus on Thursday. It will also be the first session with the new members. The old members now on the committee are C. H. Brown, George Edwards, A. W. Gunther and W. M. Fuller. The following compose the committee: C. H. Brown, chairman, agent, Columbus; J. D. McNamara, roadmaster, city; J. F. McMillan, assistant trainmaster, Kenova; J. M. Worth, bridge foreman, Dingess, W. Va.; T. W. Keyes, brakeman, city; C. L. Anson, conductor, Columbus; George Edwards, fireman, Columbus; J. K. Colley, engineer, city; H. S. Walker, road foreman of engines, city; W. M. Fuller, section foreman, Ironton; A. W. Hunter, clerk, city.

Richard Boyd of Gallia pike has resumed his work at the Irving Drew factory.

Rev. B. Bliss Cartwright of the Central Presbyterian church had charge of the services in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. A fine crowd of railroad men was present.

Mrs. Robert Bailey and son Clarence of Gallia pike left Friday for Bluefield, W. Va., to see for father Leroy Briscoe who has been suffering from the effects of a fall over a high cliff.

Attended Funeral.

Mr. M. C. Dawson, of Fifth street, formerly foreman of the Broad shoe plant, left Saturday morning for Lancaster to attend the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Kate Gilbert.

Mrs. Frank Pratt of Chillicothe street, was taken very ill Sunday morning, suffering a nervous collapse. She was reported better Monday.

"BUNGOMBE"

It Don't Always Pay to Be Skeptical.

When a newspaper writer and publisher that works nights can find himself out of dyspepsia, which is all that class suffer with, it is a while to know the kind of trouble.

This man says:

"Being a newspaper writer and publisher, as well as a graduate in medicine as well, though not practicing, makes a combination that will produce a skeptic on the subject of anything would."

"After after I read the proof of the Grape-Nuts advertisements and the feeling that they were all humbug. All this time I was suffering from dyspepsia from the improper food I was eating at the time."

"The day I saw a package of Grape-Nuts at the restaurant and I came with cream. The food, my fancy at once. After a few days on it at midnight I noted improvement in my feelings, and I have used Grape-Nuts as a diet since then, and have never had feelings that I thought necessary adjuncts to night sleeplessness, and I am able to do much more and better work with effort than ever before."

"I was nearly ready to give up work health in some other walk, but, but thanks to my change to Grape-Nuts, I am now all right."

"Some given by Postum Co., Danvers, Mass."

"I am in packages for the famous 'Grape-Nuts' and 'The Road to Wellville'."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

MANY RUMORS CROP OUT IN THE ASSAULT CASE

Activity of the police department in attempting to effect the arrest of a negro known as the "Florida Kid" in the North End Sunday afternoon led to the rumor that he was wanted in connection with the assault committed on Zelma Arthurs, the 10 year old white girl, last Thursday evening.

The report had it that the Arthurs girl had seen "Florida Kid" walking along the railroad tracks, and instantly recognized him as the man who had attacked her. This report is vigorously denied by Arthurs, his daughter, and the police department. Arthurs declared Monday morning that his little girl had not seen any one who answered the description of the negro who mistreated her since she was at police court last Saturday. It was stated at the police station Monday that the negro fugitive Sunday was wanted for stealing coal.

The original rumor gained wide circulation in the North End, and was generally credited among the colored people, who claim that the "Florida Kid", whose real name is unknown, is a desperate character, and boasts of that fact.

The police were also called to the brick yard in the North End Sunday to investigate a report that a trio of negroes, one of whom answered the description of the man who attacked the Arthurs girl, were hanging out there. The trio had disappeared when the officers arrived. A couple of white hoboes told one of the officers that they had been reading the account of the Stinnie hearing in police court Saturday, and two of them remarked how closely the description of the third of their number tallied with the description given by the Arthurs girl. They left soon afterward on a west-bound freight train.

Friends of Henry Stinnie, the negro being held at the county jail in connection with the assault, wired his sister, who lives in North Carolina, Saturday, telling her of his arrest and detention. She wired back that she would leave Sunday for this city in look after his interests.

Chief Ordered To Ban All Air Guns

Mayor Adam Frick has directed Chief McCarty to enforce the statutes regarding the shooting of air guns.

The penalty for the shooting of such rifles in public is a fine of from $1 to $15 and whoever sells to a minor under fourteen years of age, a pistol known as a toy pistol shall be fined not less than $10 nor more than $50 or imprisoned not less than ten days or more than twenty days, or both and be liable in damages to any person injured by such sale.

Whoever sells or gives to a minor an air gun, rifle, pistol or ammunition therefor or knowingly permits such to be used by a minor, shall be fined not more than $100 or imprisoned in jail not more than 30 days or both.

SEVERE RHEUMATIC PAINS DISAPPEAR

Rheumatism depends on an acid in the blood, which affects the muscles and joints, producing inflammation, stiffness and pain. This acid gets into the blood through some defect in the digestive process. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old-time blood tonic, is very successful in the treatment of rheumatism. It acts directly, with purifying effect, on the blood, and improves the digestion. Don't suffer. Get Hood's today.

NEW BOSTON

The Republican club will hold the semi-monthly meeting Wednesday evening when the final arrangements will be made for the barbecue that is to be held Friday evening in the John Conley hall in honor of the Republican victors at the last election. At the last meeting Harry Hannon was chosen as treasurer. Lawrence Fitch will furnish the supper and wine. There will be 15 tickets disposed of, besides the other tables. Plans have been laid to serve 250. Senator Warren G. Harding is expected to be one of the speakers. Republicans who were elected to county officers will also be on hand.

The W. O. W. Circle met in semi-monthly session Saturday evening and installed the following officers: Guardian, Mrs. Matilda Freymuth; Past Guardian, Mrs. Alma Gibbs; Barker, Mrs. Hattie Davis; Clerk, Mrs. Annie O'Neil; Advisor, Mrs. Grace Bussey; Attendant, Mrs. Ivy Spears; Chaplain, Mrs. Stella McGraw; Outer Sentinel, Mrs. Alice Slaughter; Inner Sentinel, Mrs. Isabel Morrison; Camp Physician, Dr. J. W. Cheney.

Mr. and Mrs. Ogle E. Burchman moved from the Charles Burchman home on East Rhodes avenue Monday to the flats above the Burchman blacksmith shop on Gallia pike.

The J. O. U. A. M. will meet in regular session Monday evening.

Dr. Carl Emmert, of Columbus, arrived Saturday to visit his father, Phil Emmert, who is seriously ill. Mr. Emmert has taken a change for the worse, and his son will not return to the Capital City until he is better.

The revival meeting at the Christian church will continue all this week. There were four additions to the church Sunday evening. Rev. Joe Emmitt will have charge of the services for the remainder of the revival.

Andrew Wolfe, one of the negro residents of the village, is seriously ill. Mrs. J. W. Penix, of Lakeside, who has been ill with rheumatism for some time, is slowly convalescing.

Mayor J. S. Davis was not able to be at the town hall Monday morning for the first time since taking his office one year ago. Sunday afternoon, while at his store, he had to be helped from a chair by his clerk, Pete Hall. The family physician was called and it was found the mayor was suffering with grip and a touch of lamboleg.

The Health Board will meet Tuesday evening, in special session, at 7:30 o'clock. Every member is requested to be present.

Will Gray, whose four room cottage was destroyed by fire in Lakeside several weeks ago, is contemplating the building of a two-story brick home on the site of the one destroyed.

SHOOTS SELF WITH REVOLVER

Dana Craigmoyle, 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Craigmoyle, 1414 Lincoln street, is laid up at his home suffering from a gun shot wound in his left leg, the result of the accidental discharge of a revolver Saturday afternoon, while on a hunting expedition near the Harrisonville Divide.

Young Craigmoyle started out on an all day's trip early Saturday and took a long barrel revolver, expecting to shoot at English sparrows. He got along famously for some time and dropped quite a number of birds, but in his anxiety to take advantage of an exceptionally good shot, he pulled the trigger too soon. The gun was discharged and the bullet, a 22-calibre, entered his left leg three inches above the knee, making an extremely bad wound, as the cloth from his pants and underwear was carried into the jagged wound.

Monday he worked 18 hours, instead of putting on an extra man.

John Schaffer, a farmer of Long Run, was in the village for the first time in two weeks, Monday. Several weeks ago his wife was taken to Athens. She is reported as getting along as well as could be expected.

A young son of Sam Clarke, of Lakeside, has been ill with fever for several days.

The little fellow was plucky and wanted to walk to Portsmouth, but a friend who accompanied him arranged with a farmer to bring him to Portsmouth, where Dr. Fetter extracted the bullet two inches below the knee. The wound, of course, has been cauterized and unless complications develop, young Craigmoyle will be as good as new in a short time.

FEARFUL HUMOR COVERED FACE- RESINOL CURED

Patterson, N. J., Dec. 9, 1913: "About a year ago my face began to crack and get scaly in patches. It soon got worse and my face was all spotted and rough, and it itched me very much at night, and caused me no end of discomfort. Another jar of Resinol Ointment and cake of Resinol Soap were given, I can truthfully say that it was a complete cure. My face had assumed its former color and looks, due to Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. They are, I think, the best for any skin trouble." (Signed) Robert T. Troyano, 230 E. 21st Street. Sold by all druggists.

Musicians Union Installs Officers

Sunday, January 10th, 1915, will not soon be forgotten by the members of Portsmouth Local No. 338, American Federation of Musicians, for it was the date of their annual installation of officers, featured this year with a sumptuous turkey dinner with all the trimmings. It was by far the most enjoyable affair ever given by the local, which has been noted for its social entertainments ever since its founding.

The banquet was spread at 12:30 Sunday afternoon and sixty-four out of the seventy-three members were around the tables when the first course was brought in. The tables fairly groined with good things, which were partaken of with a relish by the crowd of good fellows who compose the membership of Local 338.

After the banquet was over, George Kah, leader of the River

City Band, assumed charge of the proceedings and proceeded to call upon practically every member present for a few remarks. Frank Pratt was to have served in this capacity, but he was detained at home by the illness of his wife. Some of the brief addresses sparkled with wit and humor, and the speaking proved one of the most enjoyable features of the occasion.

Near the conclusion of the meeting, the officers elected at the December meeting were installed into office with the regular ceremonies. The new officers are: President, Abe White; first vice-president, Arthur Kelly; second vice-president, Blanchard Anderson; secretary, treasurer, George Haaf; examining committee, George A. Kah, J. A. Bode and L. L. Buffington; executive committee, Dan Randall, Charles Sperry, James Beaver, Albert Kalb and Charles Brunner.

GRAY HAIR?

Look Old? Feel Ashamed? Hair Falling? Want Dark, Lustrous Hair?

When your hair turns gray, streaked with gray, faded, or prematurely gray or falling out, simply shampoo your hair and scalp with Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer. This treatment will quickly darken your hair so evenly, beautifully and naturally that no one can detect you use anything, but you will look younger and more attractive. Q-Ban is a clear, clean liquid that can't injure your hair or scalp. It also has the effect of making your hair soft, glossy, fluffy, thick, giving it that soft dark lustre and abundance which makes the hair so fascinating and attractive. Stops dandruff and itching scalp and promotes an abundant growth of hair. Q-Ban is not sticky or messy and is certain to darken your hair. Money back if it fails. Only 50c for a big 7-oz. bottle at Stewart's Drug Store, Portsmouth, Ohio. Out-of-town people supplied by mail.

PLANS TO GO SOUTH

John Bassler, Jr., who for many years past has held responsible positions with the Breese Manufacturing Company, expects to leave shortly for Louisiana to enter the service of the Charleston, W. Va. Timber Company.

This concern is operating a number of mills in that state. G. E. Breese, a brother of John P. Breese, of this city, is one of the leading members of the firm.

ALMANAC IS NEW

If there is anything new under the sun, the chances are that it's in The World Almanac. This is a sweeping statement. For its justification one may point with much confidence to the files of this most regular of annuals. For particular and current instances, reference is recommended to the issue for 1915, now just at hand.

As one reads this book, the time seems very far removed, indeed, when an almanac was merely a booklet of calendar pages, with wise remarks about the sun, the moon, a few planets, the tides, and the best time for planting various kinds of seeds. Here set forth, besides election and census returns, sporting records, industrial and financial reports, a New York City gazetteer, and the countless formal information departments to which the years have accustomed readers of The World Almanac, are a review of the war in Europe; notes on the wars of the world; the political state platforms of 1914; details of the special or emergency tax; analysis of the prison population; factory statistics; workmen's compensation laws; occupations in the United States; the Federal Reserve Act; the Federal Trade Commission; statistics of foreign born population in the United States; a description of the Mexican situation; facts about the Chinese Republic; the progress and plans of the Pulisades Drive-way; a paper on the aeroplane and aviation generally in war, and too many other things to receive even a reviewer's bare mention.

Of course this book has more than a thousand pages. It outgrew ordinary almanac dimensions long ago. It will carry its own "Happy New Year" welcome to librarians, students, professors, statesmen, editors and readers in general all over the land.

A few weeks ago, while returning from a trip across the river, Lozier was struck in the foot by a stray bullet just as he was boarding the lower ferry. He went to police headquarters, where Sergeant James Marshall dressed his wound.

Lozier and Watt Hughes came near losing their lives when the ferryboat Peeler's backed down on them Saturday afternoon, breaking their skill in swim. The two showed rare presence of mind and managed to climb aboard the ferry and out of harm's way. The ferry then started in pursuit of the floating ours, picking up the last one at a point near the wharfboat. It was a close call for the young men.

RIVER CRAFT IS ENDANGERED

Quite a number of cross-ties were running in the drift that passed down the river Sunday, and a big tree standing straight up in the swift current was given a wide berth by pleasure parties out in motor boats.

The river was so swift that the big Campbell Creek Coal company lowboat, Robert P. Gillham, crept along like a snail and finally had to abandon nine of her barges, fastening them to two big trees at Fullerton before they could make the bend above the city. The Gillham's low had consisted of 20 barges and a fuel boat. The gasoline boat Comet No. 2 passed down Sunday with a large raft of logs.

Has A New Plan For Paying Taxes

County Treasurer Caldwell is contemplating a change in the method of collecting taxes, which, it is thought, will relieve the congestion at his office in the future, and at the same time, prove a convenience to rural taxpayers.

When the next tax paying arrives, he is going to send his deputies and clerks to the larger villages in the county on certain days, and there collect the taxes from the districts surrounding them. Due notice will be given the taxpayers of a certain district when the deputy will arrive, so that they can make their arrangements to be there on that day.

The deputy will have only the books of that particular district, which may include two, three or four townships, and he will be unable to collect taxes on property in any other section of the county. Large land owners, who own property in different sections of the county would still have to go to the treasurer's office, but the herds of smaller property holders will benefit by the innovation.

The plan is in vogue in the majority of the counties in the state, and has proved successful. The past few weeks have demonstrated that the present method of having every one pay their taxes at the treasurer's office in this city is unsatisfactory, owing to the lack of room. Numerous persons, especially women, have been compelled to wait two and three hours in the congested lobby before they could reach the window, and the crowd, at times, has overflowed into the corridor of the courthouse.

The places where taxes will likely be collected on certain days are Rarden, Buena Vista, South Webster, Sciotoville, and Harriestown. The plan is expected to prove popular with the farmers when it is once put into practice.

FERRY HIT SKIFF, OCCUPANTS SAVED

Ferryboats are proving a headach for Charles Lozier, a Front street young man, and son-in-law of Homer Holliday, in the light of recent events.

Lozier and Watt Hughes came near losing their lives when the ferryboat Peeler's backed down on them Saturday afternoon, breaking their skill in swim. The two showed rare presence of mind and managed to climb aboard the ferry and out of harm's way. The ferry then started in pursuit of the floating ours, picking up the last one at a point near the wharfboat. It was a close call for the young men.

A few weeks ago, while returning from a trip across the river, Lozier was struck in the foot by a stray bullet just as he was boarding the lower ferry. He went to police headquarters, where Sergeant James Marshall dressed his wound.

HASLETT IS NAMED

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 11.—Chas. W. Haslett, Jackson county farmer and stock raiser, today was appointed Deputy Tax Commissioner for Jackson county, succeeding Oscar Ervin, who resigned to go into business.

Killed By C. & O.

Augusta, Ky., Jan. 11.—Oliver Turner, 20, was killed at Stony Point, near here, early today by a C. & O. freight train. He had been to Maysville shopping. His brother James was killed in a similar manner in the C. & O. yards in Cincinnati five years ago.

TOWBOAT SWEEP AWAY BY RISE, IS RECOVERED

The motorboat "Peggy," owned by Ralph Tyson, head draughtsman in Architect Arthur Devoss' office, which had been beached, was caught by the sudden river rise a few days ago and swept down stream. The craft was caught by a houseboat man and towed ashore at a point below the Cottonwoods.

Capt. Harry Donnelly's big gasoline launch, Harriet D. Howard Mitchell's motor-boat and all other similar craft that had been beached are now in water again, due to the big rise. Joe Schreckel's houseboat, too, is once more floating on the rolling deep.

Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

Building Trades Council in Philadelphia had declared against Billy Sunday, the evangelist, and the Billy Sunday evangelist movement as being unfair to union labor. This action was taken in the Quaker City, according to reports, upon the strike of the builders who were employed in erecting the Billy Sunday tabernacle last month, and though the labor unions protested the Billy Sunday committee did nothing, and the firm employing the union men had the work finished with strike-breakers.

"Inasmuch as a committee, consisting of most of the prominent ministers in Cincinnati, have formed a committee to bring Billy Sunday here for a series of revivals, and will also build a tabernacle in which to hold the meetings, Mr. Klein communicated with Fred Mack, secretary of the local Building Trades Council. The latter declared that the question would come up at the next meeting of the council on Thursday night, after communicating with the council in Philadelphia.

"Whatever action will be taken," said Mr. Hoek, "I cannot say, but for myself, if Billy Sunday has worked against organized labor I will never go inside his tabernacle. We will not pronounce any judgment, however, until we have all the facts in the case directly from the council in Philadelphia."

Water Main Burst

One of the water mains on Ninth street broke Sunday morning and the water supply in vicinity of Ninth and Gay streets was cut off for an hour. It was stated at the water works plant Monday that this break caused the water supply in that neighborhood to be "flooded" and this accounts for the sudden appearance of mud and sand.

Prof. H. R. McWhorter of Summit, Ky., principal of the Pullerton school, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Watson of Linden avenue, Saturday and Sunday.

Water System Bids Opened On Monday

Bids for furnishing the material and performing the labor necessary for the completion of a water distributing system for New Boston were opened Monday by Clerk Thomas O'Neil. About 15 out-of-town firms submitted bids. Engineer Sam Harper's estimate for the completion of the work is $29,167.54. Frank Burt of this city was the only contractor to bid on the work as a whole. His bid was much lower than Harper's estimate. Burt's bid was around the $25,000 mark, it is said.

It will be impossible to tell who is the lowest bidder until Wednesday night when council will meet and tabulate the different bids. Thursday night at a called session of council the contract will be let. According to Harper's estimate the village will have 43 fire plugs.

A WINTER TONIC

Why is it that some people keep well all winter while others, less exposed to cold and damp, suffer with colds, grip, pneumonia and all the ills of the season?

This blood and debility are the causes of much sickness in winter. When the blood is thin and there is oxygen starvation in the tissues of the body, poisons are retained that should be eliminated and there is a lowered resistance to disease.

Rheumatism disappears when the blood is built up and does not return if the blood is kept rich.

The after-effects of grip are never cured until the blood is building.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich the blood and enable it to carry more oxygen, to nourish the starved tissues in delay, to soothe the inflamed membranes in rheumatism, to quiet the nerves in neuralgia and sciatica and to expel the lingering germs after the fever and influenza have passed. All winter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be in every home, ready for use. You can get them now at the nearest drug store.

The third edition of the popular little book "Building Up the Blood" has just been published. Write today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a free copy.

Claim They Saw "Floater" On Ice Floe At Sciotoville

A report from Sciotoville shortly before noon Monday had it that the dead body of a man lying face downward on a cake of ice had passed Sciotoville.

Fred Dietrich, an aged man, who lives near the river, is said to have seen the "floater" but owing to his feeble condition did not want to risk trying to recover the body. A family named Smith, living in a houseboat, are also said to have seen the body and reported their discovery to Mrs. Pansy Rausch. Mrs. L. M. Reynolds in turn notified Coroner Dr. Walter Daehler. Police too were notified and Chief W. T. McCarty soon had a number of Slabtown citizens and rivermen interested to the extent that they kept a sharp lookout for the man. Up to a late hour it had not been seen here and many ventured the opinion that a log may have been mistaken for a man.

The last drowning known of here was that of C. W. Hamilton, a C. & O. bridge carpenter at Thurmond, W. Va., Dec. 14th. The Collins Cash Mercantile Co., has offered a $25 reward for the recovery of his body.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and nobody can tell. Brush it through hair.

Gray hair, lowerer handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wiry and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold. Don't say gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 60 cent bottle of "Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

OBITUARY

Joseph F. Fisher, aged 63 years, a pattern dresser, employed at the Portsmouth Stove and Range works, died at his home, No. 1102 Officers street, Monday morning, after nineteen months' suffering with chronic Bright's disease.

Mr. Fisher was born and reared in Portsmouth and spent all his life in his native city. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Martha A. Fisher, two sons, and as many daughters: Thomas F. Fisher, of Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. Bertha D. Berkson, of New York City; Mrs. Annie Yause, of Columbus, Ohio; and J. Crawford Fisher, at home.

Besides he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mayne Dunham, of Pasadena Beach, Florida; and four brothers, George Fisher, of Columbus, and Louis Fisher, of Stamford, Fla.; Harry Fisher, of Wheelersburg, and Ed Fisher, of Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. Fisher was a member of Portsmouth court, Tribe of Ben Hur and Seneca Tribe of Red Men. No arrangements will be made for the funeral until the arrival of the daughter from New York.

Mrs. Dortha Gahn.

Mrs. Dortha Gahn, one of the pioneer German residents of the city passed away Sunday morning at the home of her grandson, Charles Gahn, of 1804 Oakland avenue. Death was due to infirmities of age. Mrs. Gahn was 81 years old and leaves one son, Louis Gahn. The body will be shipped to Jackson Tuesday morning and interment will be made there.

Katherine M. E. Zollmann

Death claimed one of Portsmouth's pioneer residents when Katherine M. E. Zollmann, of 11 Officers street, passed away at her home Sunday morning at nine o'clock. The end came peacefully after a lingering illness, due to the infirmities of old age.

The deceased was born on March 14th, 1832, at Wildenhansen, Oldenburg, Germany, and came to America in 1848, by way of New Orleans, leaving first at Cincinnati. She was married to Jacob Zollmann at Cincinnati, October 25, 1849, and with her husband removed to Portsmouth shortly after their marriage, where she has lived ever since.

She was the mother of eleven children, eight of whom are still living. Eight grand-children also survive to mourn her departure.

Funeral services will be held at the Zollmann home at 11 Officers street, Tuesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock and will be in charge of Rev. S. S. Lindemeyer, pastor of the German Evangelical church. The burial services at Greenlawn will be private.

Mrs. Corn's Funeral.

The funeral services of Mrs. Louisa Corns, which were held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alexander Davis, 101 Gay street, was largely attended and was in charge of Rev. Clayton Brooks, Mrs. Corns having been a member of the Christian church since she was fourteen years of age. By special request Miss Ella Perry sang most beautifully "Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing," a favorite hymn dear to the heart of the departed woman. The remains were taken to her old home in Quincy, Ky.

Saturday morning and laid to rest beside those of her husband in the Davis cemetery. The services at the grave were in charge of Mr. Walter Bagby, who has been a lifelong friend of the family. Besides her children, Mrs. Corns is survived by one sister, Mrs. George Lowder, of Quincy, Ky., and one step-son, Mr. Richard Corns, also of Quincy. She also leaves a large number of grand-children and great grand-children.

C. M. Crawford

News of the death of C. M. Crawford, who passed away at his home in Ironton, Sunday, reached his friends here Monday. Mr. Crawford was one of Ironton's most prominent and influential citizens and for years had been connected with the Yellow Poplar Lumber Company. He had for several years been a member of the Portsmouth Golf Club and the news of his passing away was received here with genuine regret.

Mrs. Scheick

Word has just been received here of the death at Coshocton, a few days ago, of Mrs. Scheick, aged mother-in-law of Rev. Adolph Mallick of Detroit, formerly pastor of the German Evangelical church here. She had been ill for some time past. Mrs. Scheick visited Portsmouth a number of times while the Mallick family resided here.

Mrs. Anna Butler

Mrs. Anna Butler, for many years a resident of Peckles, passed away at that place late Saturday night, the immediate cause of death being uraemic poisoning. Mrs. Butler leaves her husband, Earl Butler, and two daughters, Ruth and Mary. She also leaves two sisters and two brothers, Fred and Charles Derry. Miss Mary Berry at home and Mrs. Elbert McGoff, of 1413 Lincoln street, this city. Mrs. Butler was a most estimable woman and had reached the age of 78 years. The funeral services will be conducted Tuesday morning and interment will be made at Sinking Springs.

Thomas Johnson

Attorney Sam M. Johnson received a telegram Monday morning advising of the death of his cousin, Thomas Johnson, of Steubenville, O.

Mrs. Theresa Racy Funeral

The funeral services of Mrs. Theresa Racy, wife of Elmer Racy, of 1222 Officers street, who died Sunday morning, were held Sunday afternoon at the home at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. Lloyd Strocker, of Trinity church, in charge. Monday morning the remains were taken to Waverly, where the last rites were held in the Methodist church. Interment was made in the family lot at Waverly. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wendtken, Mrs. Charles Racy, Alma, Mabel and Ernestine Racy, daughters and son-in-law of the deceased, who accompanied the body to Waverly, returned home at noon. The husband and son, Charles, and J. H. Schumsky and wife, brother and sister-in-law of the deceased, remained in Waverly.

THOUSANDS OF VISITORS IN COLUMBUS SEE WILLIS TAKE OATH AS GOVERNOR OF OHIO

FORMER COLLEGE PROFESSOR IS INDUCTED INTO HIGHEST OFFICE IN POWER OF STATE

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—With his face toward the West, his right hand uplifted and the left hand resting upon the Bible, Frank Bartlett Willis, Republican, became governor today. Just as the last word of the inaugural oath had been spoken the governor's salute of 17 guns boomed from cannon placed in West Broad street, three blocks from the capital.

Thousands of visitors representing every nook and corner of the state had made the pilgrimage to the state capital to witness the ceremony by which the former college professor and former congressman would become chief executive of the state in succession to Governor James M. Cox, democrat, who retired to his home in Dayton to the management of his newspapers in that city and Springfield.

Cloudy Weather But Temperature Is Mild
The day opened cloudy but the temperature was mild and snow was the worst the local weather man could anticipate should there be any change in weather conditions in the next ten or twelve hours.

While central Ohio made up the larger part of the inauguration crowd more than a score of special trains rumbled into the Union Station all during the forenoon bringing thousands from more distant parts and swelling the throng that swarmed in the central sections of the city and along the line of march through which the inaugural parade was to pass.

The ceremonies attending the induction of Gov. Willis into office, while elaborate, were rigidly simple and unostentatious.

The inaugural ceremonies were devoid of partisan features being under the management and control of local civic and commercial bodies. The event, however, marked an epoch in the history of the republican party in Ohio in that it was the first time in eleven years that the inaugurated governor came from that party. To Mr. Willis had come the distinction of being the first elected republican governor since John M. Pattison, democrat, broke the precedent of political history in the state for a long time back, losing the republican state ticket headed by Myron T. Herrick and became governor practically on his death bed.

Andrew L. Harris, the republican lieutenant governor, succeeded Gov. Pattison in office but without inaugural ceremonies. In his lead by Judson Harmon,

John G. Speaks, was the grand marshal of the parade. More than a score of well known men accompanied him as aids.

To Chief Justice Hugh L. Nichols of the supreme court fell the duty of administering the oath of office to Gov. Willis. Justice Nichols resigned the office of lieutenant governor more than a year ago to accept appointment at the hands of Gov. Cox to the chief justiceship and in the recent election he was the only democratic candidate for state office who was successful at the polls. The chief justice entered upon his full term on Jan. 1.

Only Few Hundred Witness Ceremonies

The actual swearing of the new governor took place in the rotunda of the state capital building and was witnessed by only a few hundred of the visitors, the other thousands being crowded out for the lack of space in the building.

Practically all of those in attendance upon the inaugural festivities had an opportunity of seeing the new governor and many of them had the opportunity of shaking hands with him during the public reception which will have occupied the greater part of the afternoon and early evening. At the request of Gov. Willis and his family the inaugural ball, the biggest social event of the capital upon the occasion of the most inaugurations heretofore, was dispensed with to the great disappointment of society people in Columbus and other cities of the state. Governor Willis vetoed the inaugural ball principally because of the expense involved. In dismissing the subject he had told the committee in charge that he regarded the inaugural ball as a useless fixture as well as an expensive one and that the present was as good as anything to make a precedent by eliminating this function.

Other elected state officials who entered office with Governor Willis are: Lieutenant Governor John H. Arnold, of Columbus; Secretary of State Charles Q. Hildobrandt, of Wilmington; State Treasurer Rudolph W. Archer, of Bellaire, and Attorney General Edward C. Turner of Columbus. All are republicans.

Members of the general assembly, which convened last Monday and after two days' routine work adjourned to meet for an hour's session this morning, were given special places in the reviewing stand today. Many were accompanied by their wives and members of their families or by constituents.

The assembly expects to hear Governor Willis' message tomorrow and after that will start actively law making work of the session.

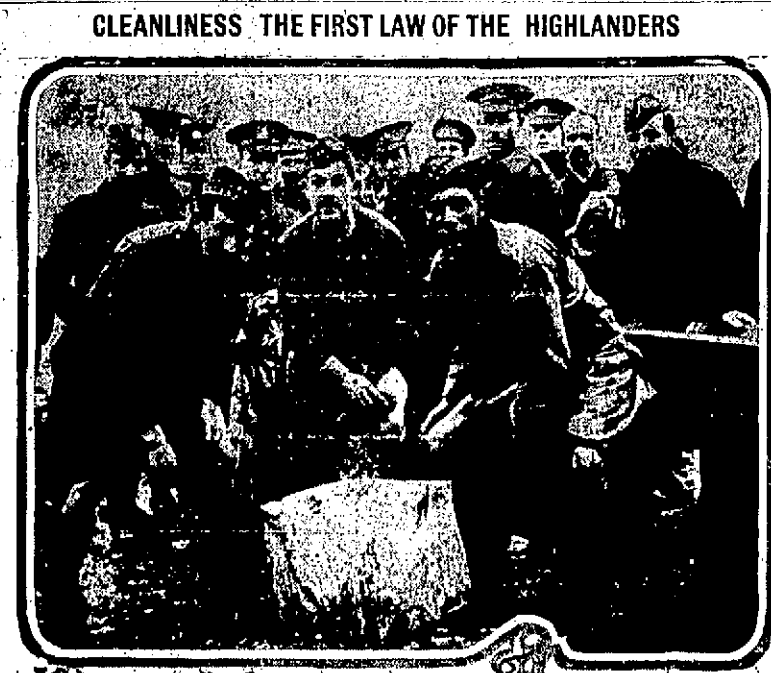

Had Early Training On Farm In Ohio

Take his predecessor, Frank Bartlett Willis was born on a farm. In a little cottage near Lewis Center, Delaware county 15 miles from the state capital, he first saw light on December 28, 1871, the son of a hard working farmer, who, as a member of the 48th Regiment O. V. I., had fought through the civil war from its outbreak to its conclusion.

Residents of Delaware county tell an interesting story of a series of incidents in the life of the governor which today resulted in Mrs. Willis' becoming the first lady of Ohio.

On the farm there was hard work and plenty of it for young Willis. During his spare hours he

PREPARE FOR BATTLE ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT VOTE

Washington, Jan. 11.—Supporters of woman's suffrage and opponents alike were arriving here today from throughout the country in readiness for the battle which has been staged for the House tomorrow when a vote will be taken on the resolution for a constitutional amendment making woman suffrage nation-wide. They will occupy seats in the visitors' gallery during the debate on the resolution.

Scenes of animation rivaling those during the debate and vote on the prohibition constitutional amendment recently are expected to be witnessed during the contest over the suffrage amendment. House leaders are planning for a flood of oratory. The House will meet an hour earlier than usual with the intention of voting before adjournment.

Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, president of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, and other members of the organization, were jubilant today. They asserted that the resolution would be defeated by more than two-thirds majority. Champions of suffrage made no claims.

ANOTHER FIRE ON N. Y. SUBWAY LINE

New York, Jan. 11.—The Lenox avenue line of the subway was out of commission for an hour and forty minutes early today because of another fire due, it is believed, to defective insulation, the cause of the fire and panic in the tube last Wednesday when one person met death and more than 200 were injured.

Today's blaze was at One Hundred and Sixty-Third street, where the tracks, no longer in a tube, are high above the street. A car standing dead on the third track of the trestle was burned. It was a wooden car, similar to about 500 others that the public service commission ordered replaced with steel cars after its investigation of last week's accident. The car burned to the trucks within a few minutes.

WILL INQUIRE INTO ADVANCE IN WHEAT

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Federal investigation into the present high price of wheat was to begin here today to determine whether speculation or attempted "food cornering" has had anything to do with the recent sensational rise in the market.

Bert L. Hopkins, assistant United States district attorney, who is in charge of the inquiry, was prepared to summon a long list of bakers, grain men, grocers and commission merchants for investigation.

Will Press Shipping Bill

Washington, Jan. 11.—Senate leaders including Senator Fletcher, who is piloting the government ship purchase bill through the senate, are determined to press the measure for general debate. Although the shipping bill has been before the senate for several days as the unfinished business, barring the supply measures, but little progress has been made on it, the district appropriation bill already having consumed three days of debate.

Republican leaders in the senate including Senators Root, Gallinger, Lodge and Burton, who are opposing the shipping bill, are prepared to continue their attacks on the measure when it is called up for consideration.

MRS. ROGERSTO BE INDICTED

New York, Jan. 11.—District Attorney Francis Martin, of Bronx county, announced last night that he will go before the grand jury today with a demand for an indictment of murder against Mrs. Ida Shiffen Walters, who called herself Mrs. Rogers, after leaving her husband for Leroy Rogers, the Park Row lawyer, and who gave poison to their eight-months-old daughter, Lorinda, and their two-and-a-half-year old son, John.

Mrs. Walters is confined in a private room in the Lebonon hospital, where she is held pending complete recovery from the poison she swallowed after giving doses of it to her babies.

FAMOUS JAPANESE INVENTOR IS DEAD

Tokio, Jan. 11.—Lieut. General Baron Noriaki Arisaka, a famous Japanese soldier and inventor of the new type of quick-firing mountain guns which bears his name, is dead. He was created a baron and awarded the second class of the golden kite for his meritorious services in connection with the Russo-Japanese war. He was born in 1852.

MOTHER AND FIVE CHILDREN PERISH WHEN HOME BURNS

Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 11.—Mrs. William Duff, and five children ranging in age from one to twelve years, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their home near Huntington, Lawrence county, Ohio, Sunday morning.

Duff himself escaped death, although he was severely burned. Duff had arisen to build the fire Sunday morning, and then returned to bed. A short time later he awoke to find the house in flames. He himself was badly burned in escaping and in endeavoring to rescue other members of the family, but was unable to save any of them.

The victims are colored, being residents of the colored settlement of Milledonia, famous as an "underground railway" station during the days of slavery in the South.

EXPRESS SURPRISE AT CONTENTIONS OF BRITISH REPLY

Washington, Jan. 11.—Renewed confidence was expressed in official circles here today that diplomatic exchanges between Great Britain and the United States regarding interruption of neutral commerce soon will lead to elimination of many of the uncertainties to which American cargoes have been subjected. The British reply to the American protest, made public late yesterday, was regarded as conciliatory in tone and as forecasting a final agreement satisfactory to American shippers.

While high officials, who have had the British reply before them since Friday, continued to discuss it only in guarded terms, it became known that they were gratified at the friendly spirit that characterized the communication and considered that the situation had been greatly simplified by Great Britain's frank conference in the basic principles set forth in the American protest. They felt that an understanding had been reached upon which details could be worked out in future diplomatic correspondence.

Some officials, who read the text of the British reply today for the first time, expressed surprise at the position taken by the British foreign office that England could not be expected to confine herself strictly to accepted rules of international procedure in the matter of contraband shipments because her enemies had not done so. One official expressed the sentiment that such a contention could not be accepted by the American government which could in no way be held responsible for any untoward acts of Great Britain's enemies.

KING ALBERT SHOWS KINDNESS TO WOMAN

Geneva, Jan. 11.—The Lausanne Gazette tells the story of how a young Parisian woman, recently married to a French artillery officer, won her way to her husband's side at the front in Flanders. She first tried to obtain a pass of the French authorities, failing in this she traveled in a peasant's cart for several days to the Belgian headquarters. She met with a polite reception and a polite refusal.

A tall officer looked up from a map he was studying and intervened. "Madame," he said, "a French woman could not have undertaken such a voyage for nothing. He took up the telephone, and after conversing a moment over the wire said: "Your husband will be here soon." He ordered that lodgings be found for the young woman, who thanked the "tall kind officer" and warmly shook both his hands.

Two hours later her husband, puzzled at his recall from the

CARDINAL IS REPRIMANDED

Amsterdam, (via London) Jan. 11.—The Telegraph says it learns that the Papal Nuncio to Belgium has written to Cardinal Mercier, whose recent pastoral letter to Belgian Catholics created much discussion and led to reports that the Cardinal had been detained by the Germans, suggesting that hereafter he write nothing which might offend the Germans.

Conference Report Ready For Congress

Washington, Jan. 11.—The report of the conference committee on the immigration bill with the provision for a literacy test for those seeking admission to the United States was sent to the House and Senate today for final action.

It was believed that opposition would develop in the senate to the action of the conference in striking out the amendment to exempt Belgian agriculturists from the literacy test for a period of one year after the European war.

The immigration bill will be sent to the White House within a few days for President Wilson's signature. Opinion is divided among members of congress as to what the president will do with the measure because of his objection to the literacy test, but some Democrats think he will veto it.

When the bill is laid before him the president will fix upon a date when supporters and opponents of the measure will be heard.

THE OLD AND THE NEW GOVERNOR.

By the exigencies of politics, James M. Cox is today a private citizen and Frank B. Willis rules in his stead as the governor of Ohio.

Mr. Cox retires from office with the knowledge that he has ever worked for what he believed to be the best interests of the state, that he has set a new standard in governmental affairs in so far as keeping faith with the people concerned. He came into office with a new constitution that required the passage of innumerable laws to make it operative. The platform upon which he was elected guaranteed that if entrusted with power the Democratic party would, by legislation, honestly try to put into effect the provisions of the new constitution. Governor Cox, in his campaign speeches, reiterated this pledge and what is more he meant exactly what he said. Once in office he worked with the same idea in mind of keeping his pledged word to the people. He did not make the constitution but he could see that it was not rendered inoperative by vicious legislation, and to his everlasting honor and credit he said, he kept the faith, kept it in the face of the most bitter opposition. He was one governor who took his office seriously, too seriously for his own temporary political future, no events proved. The passage of the laws necessary by the new constitution triumphed on too many peoples' toes, raised up a host of enemies among persons who wanted to exploit the public for private gain, and the result was that the governor went down to defeat by a narrow margin at the last election.

Realizing and retiring from office, he has yet a greater hold upon the affections of the people than ever, and it is not without probability that he will again be called upon to finish the good work, the great work, that he has so well begun. The good wishes of the great majority of the citizens of Ohio follow the ex-governor into private life and they trust that his future may be along pleasant lines.

The new governor, Mr. Willis, is a fine type of American manhood and The Times trusts that he will meet the many difficulties that confront him with courage and skill and with an eye single to the general good. He has the opportunity not only to make a name for himself but also to make himself a figure in national politics by a broad, honest, dignified administration of affairs; an administration that will seek to strengthen rather than to tear down the progressive measures of the Cox regime, that will look to the general public good rather than to petty, partisan advantage that may come with the possession of a few offices. It is to be expected, we would not have it otherwise, that Mr. Willis will fill offices as they fall vacant with Republicans, but we do hope that the new governor is big enough to rise above the clamors of statesmen of the Doc Hoy type who would suspend the constitution in order to grab the spoils of office.

THE LOCAL WATER RENT QUESTION.

The effort of Mayor Prick to get the water works on a more systematic basis, whether that may mean a meter system or some other, is to be commended, as all will agree that we have been running on a rather haphazard plan. Personally we are inclined to think that in the long run the meter system will be the most economical, not only to the city but also to the consumers. The only dissatisfaction that might arise would be over the initial cost of the meters and this could be arranged on a rental basis. Our water rent here has been very low, considering and it is not to be expected that it will always remain at the figure now prevailing. However, by rigid economy in the operation of the plant and also economy in the use of water, there is no reason why the price to consumers should not remain at a very low figure. We feel certain that the mayor and his advisers will work out a plan that will be entirely satisfactory to the public and at the same time will permit of the operation of the new plant on a paying basis.

In this connection there has been an investigation going on at Harrisburg, Pa., of the comparative cost of water in various cities, due to charges that a corporation in charging a minimum of $18 a hydrant is robbing consumers. Experts testified that the average cost for a single hydrant in 365 communities is $6.28. The minimum rate in Portsmouth is well within this average.

We hope that the local applicants for jobs at Columbus took due note of the settled fact that our new governor is fond of corn on the cob. It ought to help a patriot some to be able to present the governor with a fine mess of personally raised roasting ears.

VON HINDENBURG.

(Philadelphia North American)

What is the most impressive war picture that has been published? Some would choose a charging squadron of horse, some a thundering battleship, some a bombardment. Our choice is the portrait of a man—Field Marshal von Hindenburg, commander-in-chief of the imperial German armies in the east.

That face has in it for us more thrills than any battle scene. It is as rugged and massive as a granite cliff. The eyes gleam out of shaggy caverns. The great mustaches that half-cover the tremendous jaws suggest forests on a mountain side. The whole countenance is that of impassive, relentless power. Beside it Kitchener's stern features look almost insipid.

But it is not for his face that they are erecting statues to Von Hindenburg while he is still at the front. He won the greatest battle of the war—the greatest, some experts say, in history. Tannenberg made all Russia reel. The vast armies of the czar have not yet recovered from the shock of that unique disaster.

It is a custom, not wholly fair, to ascribe victories to commanders and to ignore their soldiers. But Tannenberg was absolutely the creation of this grim old warrior's genius. The nickname given to him years ago in derision—"Von Hindenburg of the lakes"—has become a title of honor that overshadows his rank of field marshal. The story of his triumph is one of the most curious in military annals.

Until his retirement on a pension a few years ago Von Hindenburg was the most aggressive and picturesque of German generals—tireless in his work and merciless in his warlike handling of his forces at the great annual maneuvers. His particular study was defense of the eastern frontier against the looming power of Russia.

That region offered peculiar difficulties for military operations—or peculiar advantages, according to Von Hindenburg. For many miles the land is cut up with chains of lakes and sluggish untamed waterways, with vast, trackless marshes intervening. To make this desolate country one colossal trap for the destruction of an invading army became an obsession with the hard-headed old general.

He spent months in exploring the great swamps. He took out parties of engineers and mapped every lake and morass, every causeway of solid earth. He maneuvered through them battalions, regiments and army corps, horse, foot and artillery. Once every year he insisted upon a great sham battle. Dividing the forces equally, he gave command of the "Russians" to the ablest strategists of the war academy and invited them to break through his lines. Invariably they found themselves figuratively engulfed. And actually the officers and men were often up to their necks in water. The jest about "Von Hindenburg of the lakes" became rather acrid.

But he never did let up. Three years ago German conservationists demanded that the Mazurian lake region be drained and reclaimed for agricultural purposes. They showed that untold millions could thus be added to the wealth of the empire. When Von Hindenburg heard of it he literally roared in protest. He besieged the reichstag, he stormed the departments, and finally carried his maps and his war plans and his furious demands to the emperor himself.

He insisted that those lakes be left just as they were. When the inevitable Russian invasion came, he shouted, they would be needed. The Kaiser was finally convinced, the lakes were saved, and Von Hindenburg went back, grumbling but triumphant, to his retirement.

The real recent history. The Russian onslaught came, and for a time threatened to roll on to Berlin. Then Von Hindenburg was summoned and put in command in East Prussia. And, like the pieces of a familiar puzzle, the moves of his long-practiced strategy of the lakes worked to their predestined end.

With feints and attacks and retreats Von Hindenburg lured the Russian armies into the maze of marsh and quagmire, to which he alone held the key. And at the proper time he turned and smote them, drove them deeper and deeper into the gigantic trap, and overwhelmed them as the hosts of Pharaoh were overwhelmed in the Red Sea. Russia admitted the loss of 50,000 of her finest troops; Germany says the number was nearer 150,000.

A good deal has been heard in this war about German efficiency. But no other example appeals to us so powerfully as this tremendous feat of Von Hindenburg, who would not permit the nation to drain the Mazurian lakes because he wanted them to drown Russians in.

We had been under the impression that "Mother" Jones' activity in the Colorado coal strike was due to her devotion to the cause for which the miners fought and her passionate belief that the miners were right in their contention. Our faith in her enthusiasm is a little jarred when we read that she was on a $340 a year salary and that her expenses for the year as paid amounted to $1,726.62, though of course there is no reason why she should not be paid for her work. We, however, had her on a little pedestal as one working without money and without price in the interests of humanity.

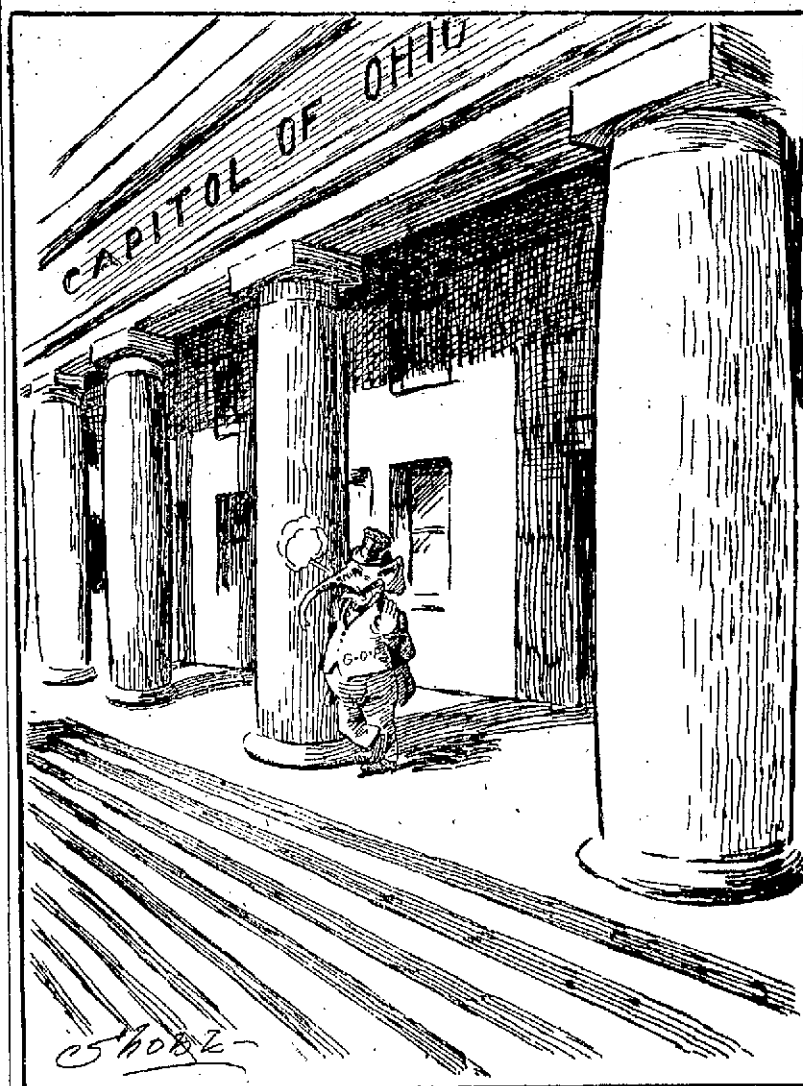

Glad the census is not being taken today. So many office seekers are away helping Frank B. grab the government, you know.

Another reason why we should have a new depot is that travel to Columbus will be very popular in certain circles for the next few months. And it would never do to have our patriots set out for the capital with wet, cold feet, which they are liable to get by walking through the snow and mud to the trains.

How strangely silent are those papers that used to lament about the "awful horde of Democratic office seekers."

It becomes more apparent every day that what Mexico needs is a man of horseback. If they run shy of material we always have Teddy in reserve.

"PROPRIETOR"

Having read with unbiased mind the various white, orange, yellow, blue and green papers issued by the various warring European countries, it seems to us that while everybody was lustily shouting for peace, everybody was equally as busy as bees in making preparations for war and looking for an opening to get in the first lick. At the same time the Kaiser's diplomatic jockey allowed the other fellows to put him in a pocket and then he stayed until the flag dropped on the finish of the preliminaries.

Ours is a law abiding community and no matter what the aggravation of offense there is no talk of mob violence aside from the loose utterances of a few irresponsible persons. This is largely due to the fact that we have sure and swift enforcement of the law here and that our people have confidence in our courts.

We Sell An Alarm Clock
That is seven times better than the average. You may think this statement pretty strong, but here are the facts.

This clock runs a week and alarms a week with one winding. Others have to be wound every night. It is seven times less annoying, seven times more convenient. A touch of a button shuts off the alarm. It is so attractive in appearance and the dial and hands so easy to read that it can be used in any room.

And this seven times better clock costs only $3.00.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG,
DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and nobody can tell. Brush it through hair.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your claim. It makes or mars the face. When it falls, turns gray and looks dry, wavy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhance its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Grandma's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You molder a strong or soft touch with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

FINE TEAM OF HORSES DROWNED IN THE OHIO

A fine big black team of horses, belonging to the Interstate Transfer company were drowned in the Ohio river, directly north of the U. & O. depot, Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The team, which was hitched to a big consignment of beans, was driven by Edward Whaley. Coming down the steep grade, the horses became frightened and started at a brisk trot. Driver Whaley did all within his power to check the horses, but pushed by the heavily loaded wagon, the whole outfit gained additional momentum. Seeing that it would be impossible to stop the team, Driver Whaley jumped and the horses, wagon, beans and all plunged into the river. The outfit was going with such speed that the horses were carried underneath the float. They reappeared on the other side and were then carried under the ferry float, where the animals were drowned. Had Mr. Whaley stuck to the wagon it is quite likely he would have met a similar fate.

The entire cargo of beans, valued at about $500.00, was lost. The beans were consigned to the Gilbert Grocery company.

Help! Wagon Stole From City Building

An old runabout, formerly used as a fire chief's wagon, and which did temporary police patrol service until the city service wagon arrived, was badly stolen from the city building premises by "Yaller" Lotell and sold to Blacksmith Judson Kinsley for $3 a few days ago.

The theft was not discovered until Monday morning and "Yaller," who was behind the prison bars, frankly acknowledged his guilt, in the next breath asking the officers to intercede with the "old man," meaning the mayor, not to be too hard on him. He had taken the runabout from a wheel on the lot back of the city building. He spent the money secured for it in getting drunk. It was full of light as he reached headquarters about the time Henry Stinnie was having a preliminary hearing for alleged criminal assault on 30-year-old Zedna Arthurs. He came near starting serious trouble by urging that all negroes in the city be lynched. Officer Charles Flowers hustled him out of the crowd, locking him up. He soon became so wild that he had to be placed in solitary confinement.

SHOOTSELF WITH REVOLVER

Dann Craigmyle, 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Craigmyle, 1414 Lincoln street, is laid up at his home suffering from a gun shot wound in his left leg, the result of the accidental discharge of a revolver Saturday afternoon, while on a hunting expedition near the Harrisonville Divide.

Young Craigmyle started out on an all day's trip early Saturday and took a long barrel revolver, expecting to shoot in English sparrows. He got along famously for some time and dropped quite a number of birds, but in his anxiety to take advantage of an exceptionally good shot, he pulled the trigger too soon. The gun was discharged and the bullet, a 22-caliber, entered his left leg three inches above the knee, making an extremely bad wound, as the cloth from his pants and underwear was carried into the jagged wound.

The little fellow was plucky and wanted to walk to Portsmouth, but a friend who accompanied him arranged with a farmer to bring him to Portsmouth, where Dr. Fetter, extracted the bullet two inches below the knee. The wound, of course, has been cauterized and unless complications develop, young Craigmyle will be as good as new in a short time.

Chief Ordered To Ban All Air Guns

Mayor Adam Frick has directed Chief McFarty to enforce the statutes regarding the shooting of air guns.

The penalty for the shooting of such rifles in public is a fine of from $1 to $15 and whoever sells to a minor under fourteen years of age, a small known as a toy pistol shall be fined not less than $10 nor more than $50 or imprisoned not less than ten days or more than twenty days, or both, and be liable in damages to any person injured by such sale.

Whoever sells or gives to a minor an air gun, rifle, pistol or any other weapon, or knowingly permits such to be used by a minor, shall be fined not more than $100 or imprisoned not more than 30 days or both.

TAKES OATH AS GOVERNOR

began to trade in live stock. A number of transactions converted a sheep into a calf and later the calf figured in a trade, which made the youth the possessor of a speckled dunlop pony.

According to the story, it was the picture of the sturdy farmer lad, astride his speckled pony, that aided materially in gaining the attentions of a neighbor's maiden, who afterward became Mrs. Willis.

When it came time for Mrs. Willis to attend college, Ohio Northern University was selected because the mother explained it was less expensive than other institutions of learning in Ohio. The governor was graduated from Ohio Northern in 1893. The next year he accepted a position as professor of history and economics at Ada, and was married to Miss Allie Dustin, of Galena, Delaware county.

In 1900 Republicans of Hardin county gave the college professor a majority in a contest for a seat in the Ohio house of representatives, where he served two terms. Leaving public life, he returned to Ada and after receiving a master's degree from his university, began the study of law. In this connection he took special work at the Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, where his parents now reside.

In 1901 Ohio Northern conferred upon Mr. Willis a doctor of laws degree and made him professor of law. In the meantime he was admitted to the Ohio bar, passing the bar examination with an almost perfect grade.

After four years of quiet life in the college town, Willis was nominated as the Republican candidate for Congress from the eighth district, and elected. He was successful in his campaign for reelection in 1912 and before his second term expired was elected governor of Ohio.

BOYS STEAL PIGEONS

The police secured confessions from a number of East End boys Sunday night, which they say clears up the wholesale stealing of pigeons over town the past fortnight.

Officer Ridings found an unusual number of pigeons at the home of Marshall Sargent, of No. 822 Prospect street, and secured an admission from him that he had stolen pigeons from five different places. He implicated others, it is said, and police located Ora Carter, of 1114-a street, Glenn Moore, Harry and Lew Hodge. All confessed to stealing fully 100 pigeons and were ordered to appear in court Monday.

Among pigeon fanciers whose places were raided were Neil Eck, of Robinson avenue and Officer street, Oliver Tombridge, of 1132 Seventh street, Roy Cooper, of 2138 Ninth street, and the Edwards family of Seventh street, above Boundary street.

SERVICES WILL CLOSE ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The special meetings being held at the First Presbyterian church will be continued the first three days of this week, closing Wednesday. The pastor will preach each evening. The subject of the sermon tonight will be "The Transfiguration."

Thursday night a big church social will be held to which all adult members of the congregation and attendants of the church are invited. This affair will be put on by the men of the church and a great time is promised. There will be a social hour followed by refreshments served by the men. After this there will be a short program of music and speeches, and the evening will close with a presentation of the story of "Ruth" in three reels of motion pictures. The festivities will begin at seven-thirty.

The usual Monday evening program of pictures for the Bible School will be given Friday evening this week, and the gymnasium will be closed on Monday and Tuesday evenings, but will be opened on the afternoon of both days from 3:30 to 5:30.

SCIOTOVILLE I. O. O. F. INSTALLS OFFICER

Lodge Deputy Grand Master Edward Zeek, assisted by several past grands, installed the following elected officers in Orient Lodge No. 337, I. O. O. F., of Sciotoville, Ohio:

Charles Strickland, past grand. Leroy Smith, noble grand. Leo Bushman, vice grand. Arthur Peirl, recording secretary. E. Gammon, financial secretary. D. A. Evans, treasurer.

The noble grand appointed Edward Zeek, Charles Artis and Joe Bushman as members of the finance committee to serve for a term of six months. Brother Nagel is 79 years old and has been a faithful member of Orient Lodge and we sincerely wish that he could give us another 54 years of his valuable services in Odd Fellowship.

LABOR UNIONS AFTER BILLY SUNDAY'S SCALP

The Enquirer of Sunday said: "Nicholas Klein, attorney for the local Building Trades Council, received word yesterday that the Building Trades Council in Philadelphia had declared against Billy Sunday, the evangelist, and the Billy Sunday evangelist movement as being unfair to union labor. This action was taken in the Quaker City, according to reports, upon the strike of the builders who were employed in erecting the Billy Sunday tabernacle last month, and though the labor unions protested the Billy Sunday committee did nothing, and the firm employing the union men had the work finished with strike-breakers.

"Inasmuch as a committee, consisting of most of the prominent ministers in Cincinnati, have formed a committee to bring Billy Sunday here for a series of revivals, and will also build a tabernacle in which to hold the meetings, Mr. Klein communicated with Fred Hoek, secretary of the local Building Trades Council. The latter declared that the question would come up at the next meeting of the council on Thursday night, after communicating with the council in Philadelphia.

"Whatever action will be taken," said Mr. Hoek, "I cannot say, but for myself, if Billy Sunday has worked against organized labor I will never go inside his tabernacle. We will not pronounce any judgment, however, until we have all the facts in the case directly from the council in Philadelphia."

FERRY HIT SKIFF, OCCUPANTS SAVED

Ferryboats are proving a hoots for Charles Lozier, a front street young man, and son-in-law of Homer Holliday, in the light of recent events.

Lozier and Watt Hughes came near losing their lives when the ferryboat Peerless backed down on them Saturday afternoon, breaking their skill in twin. The two shrewd, rare presence of mind and managed to climb aboard the ferry and out low the Cottonwoods.

Capt. Harry Donally's big gasoline launch, Harriet D. Howard Mitchell's motor-boat and all other similar craft that had been beached are now in water again, due to the big rise. Joe Schreck's houseboat, too, is once more floating on the rolling deep.

TOWBOAT SWIFT AWAY BY RISE, IS RECOVERED

The motorboat "Peggy," owned by Ralph Tyson, head draughtsman in Architect Arthur Devos' office, which had been beached, was caught by the sudden river rise a few days ago and swept down stream. The craft was caught by a houseboat man and towed ashore at a point below the Cottonwoods.

All present directors of the Portsmouth Veneer & Panel Company were re-elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders Saturday afternoon.

The directors organized by electing Judge A. T. Holcomb, president; Mrs. E. M. Walker, vice-president; U. A. Swisshelm, secretary,

OFFICERS INSTALLED BY THE MUSICIANS' UNION

Sunday, January 10th, 1915, will not soon be forgotten by the members of Portsmouth Local No. 335, American Federation of Musicians, for it was the date of their annual installation of officers, featured this year with a sumptuous turkey dinner with all the trimmings. It was by far the most enjoyable affair ever given by the local, which has been noted for its social entertainments ever since its founding.

The banquet was spread at 12:30 Sunday afternoon and sixty-four out of the seventy-three members were around the tables when the first course was brought in. The tables fairly groaned with good things, which were partaken of with a relish by the crowd of good fellows who compose the membership of Local 335.

After the banquet was over, George Kah, leader of the River City Band, assumed charge of the proceedings and proceeded to call upon practically every member present for a few remarks. Frank Pratt was to have served in this capacity, but he was detained at home by the illness of his wife. Some of the brief addresses sparked with wit and humor, and the speaking proved one of the most enjoyable features of the occasion.

Near the conclusion of the meeting, the officers elected at the December meeting were installed into office with the regular ceremonies. The new officers are: President, Art White; first vice-president, Arthur Kelly; second vice-president, Blanchard Anderson; secretary-treasurer, George Haaf; examining committee, George A. Kah, J. A. Bode and L. T. Buffington; executive committee, Don Randall, Charles Sperry, James Beaver; Albert Kall and Charles Brunier.

RIVER CRAFT ENDANGERED BY CURRENT IN THE RIVER

Quite a number of cross-ties were running in the drift that passed down the river Sunday, and a big tree standing straight up in the swift current was given a wide berth by pleasure parties out in motor boats.

The river was so swift that the big Campbell Creek Coal company towboat, Robert P. Gillham, empty along like a snail and finally had to abandon nine of her barges, fastening them to two big trees at Fullerton before they could make the bend above the city. The Gillham's tow had consisted of 20 barges and a fuel boat. The gasoline boat Comet No. 2 passed down Sunday with a large raft of logs.

According to a statement issued by the Norfolk and Western railroad Saturday over $7,000,000 worth of improvements, exclusive of double tracking, were made during the past year. Some of the work was in progress in 1913 and completed in 1914, and some is now under way which it is expected to complete this year. The approximate cost of the second track work is $39,000,000 and to complete the work an additional $7,000,000 will be required. The road also will place in operation before long their electric equipment, which extends over a distance of 30 miles between Vivian, W. Va., and Bluefield, W. Va. This improvement cost $1,300,000. Similar improvements have been made all along the line.

For the month of November the railway operating revenues showed a decrease of $614,928.21 over the same period for the year previous. The net income showed a decrease of $214,181.23.

WILL INAUGURATE A NEW PLAN FOR PAYING TAXES

County Treasurer Caldwell is contemplating a change in the method of collecting taxes, which, it is thought, will relieve the congestion at his office in the future, and at the same time, prove a convenience to rural taxpayers.

When the next tax paying arrives, he is going to send his deputies and clerks to the larger villages in the county on certain days, and there collect the taxes from the districts surrounding them. Due notice will be given the taxpayers of a certain district when the deputy will arrive, so that they can make their arrangements to be there on that day.

The deputy will have only the books of that particular district, which may include two, three or four townships, and he will be unable to collect taxes on property in any other section of the county. Large land owners, who own property in different sections of the county would still have to go to the treasurer's office, but the horde of smaller property holders will benefit by the innovation.

The plan is in vogue in the majority of the counties in the state, and has proved successful. The past few weeks have demonstrated that the present method of having every one pay their taxes at the treasurer's office in this city is unsatisfactory, owing to the lack of room. Numerous persons, especially women, have been compelled to wait two and three hours in the congested lobby before they could reach the window, and the crowd, at times, has overflowed into the corridor of the courthouse.

The places where taxes will likely be collected on certain days are Rarden, Buena Vista, South Webster, Sciotoville, and Harrisonville. The plan is expected to prove popular with the farmers when it is once put into practice.

Water Main Burst

One of the water mains on Ninth street broke Sunday morning and the water supply in vicinity of Ninth and Gay streets was cut off for an hour. It was stated at the water works plant Monday that this break caused the water supply in that neighborhood to be "flooded" and this accounts for the sudden appearance of mud and sand.

Irene and Ellen Caught With A Man

Irene Carter, of Third street, and Ellen Deboard, of New Boston, and a man giving his name as Ed Jones were locked up by Officers Harding and Timmett late Saturday night.

The officers caught the trio in York Place, one other man who was in the party making his escape. The arrests were made at the instance of the Carter girl's father. She is but 15 years of age and is already under a suspended sentence from the juvenile court. The other girl is said to have been living in a shanty below the park. Jones was released on bond. Judge Bontly will give the girls a hearing Tuesday.

Women In Politics

At their regular meeting last Friday evening, the Daughters of America decided to enlist themselves in the movement for the election of a woman as member of the school board. A committee, headed by Mrs. Henry Ribble, was appointed to meet with the Mothers' Club of the Lower Fourth street school building at its next meeting, to propose a union of the forces of both organizations to that end.

Special Sermons

On next Sunday evening Rev. J. W. Dunning, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will begin a series of sermons on "Present Day Problems." The subjects are as follows: January 17th, "The Secrets of Today's Unrest"; January 24th, "The Social Ideal of Jesus"; January 31st, "Privilege, Power, Plenty, Poverty"; February 7, "The Church and the World's Future."

here in our harsh (?) northern climate nice warm sunny days prevail; birds are singing, bees humming, while out in the Scioto the "bull-hounds," "coggle-eyes" and "chubs" are fairly aching for some Isaac Walton to tease them with a few nice worms to flip out on the bank. Sure this is some climate!

Profound Diagnosis. A well-known aviator was not feeling very well, so he thought he would consult a physician to whom he was a stranger. The doctor examined him carefully and said: "My dear sir, you are all right. What you want is plenty of fresh air."
